JUST THINKING

Read this carefully! At WND.com Jerome Corsi reports on threats and intimidation used by the Obama campaign in 2008 to steal the primary elections from rival candidate Hillary Clinton. “Michele Thomas, a professional photographer in Hollywood, told WND in an exclusive interview that her resistance to the Obama campaign made her a target of intimidation. ‘I have received death threats from Obama’s people,’ she said. ‘I think I was called a ‘racist’ a thousand times. If you didn’t stand for Obama, you were a racist. It was a way to intimidate you.’ ...Thomas started out as a volunteer for Hillary in Los Angeles, making thousands of phone calls from the local campaign office. What she witnessed while volunteering for Hillary in the Nevada Democratic Party caucuses eventually turned her into an activist. ‘The Obama campaign people were stealing the caucuses—throwing away votes, intimidating people from entering the caucus locations,’ she said. ‘It was very systematic. The Obama supporters got control over the caucus packages and they manipulated the vote. ...Everyone knew the Obama people were stealing the election.’” The mainstream media, eager to see Obama win, ignored the stories. “By June 2008, Thomas said, the Democratic Party and the media declared Obama the winner of the Democratic Party presidential nomination even though Obama did not have the necessary number of delegates and Clinton, at most, was only a few behind Obama in the delegate count. At that point, Thomas formulated a plan to make sure Clinton’s name was placed in nomination and her committed delegates were counted in the first ballot at the Democratic National Convention in August 2008. Thomas found out that the rules of the Democratic National Convention provided that if 300 delegates for a particular candidate signed a petition—with not more than 50 from one state—the candidate’s delegates would have to be counted on the first ballot. ...The petition called for a floor nomination of Hillary Clinton that would force a count of the delegates for each candidate.”

Thomas explained to Corsi, "There was no way the Democratic National Committee could knock the signatures off this petition. The next [required] step was to get a super-delegate to introduce these petitions from the convention floor." Corsi writes, "Thomas turned to Bill Gwatney, the chairman of the Arkansas Democratic Party and a close personal friend of Bill and Hillary Clinton, to pick a super-delegate from the Arkansas delegation to introduce her petition at the convention." Corsi explains, "With Arkansas coming early in the alphabetic roll call of states, the plan was that Gwatney's insistence on giving Arkansas' delegates to Hillary on the first ballot would start a trend that the leadership of the Democratic National Party would find difficult to stop." But, "On Aug. 13, 2008, a gunman entered the Arkansas Democratic Party headquarters, walked down the hallway to Gwatney's office and fired several shots at him, killing him instantly. The assailant, identified as Timothy D. Johnson, was fatally wounded by the police after a long car chase." Thomas then turned to former Congresswoman Stephanie Tubbs, who supported Clinton despite pressure to back Obama because she was black. Thomas states, "Unfortunately, Stephanie Tubbs Jones died of a supposed brain aneurysm just before the Democratic National Convention. ...We found it quite a coincidence that Bill Gwatney was killed the day after we talked with him, and just a few days later that Tubbs Jones died suddenly of an aneurysm, after she had agreed to introduce our petition."

JT: Now if you don't think that Obama is behind the killing of Bill Gwatney and the death of Stephanie Tubbs Jones, I ask you to examine some of his quotes that he used in the presidential primary elections in 2008:

- Obama to His Followers: "Get in Their Faces!"
- Obama on ACORN Mobs: "I don't want to quell anger. I think people are right to be angry! I'm angry!"
- Obama to His Mercenary Army: "Hit Back Twice As Hard"
- Obama on the private sector: "We talk to these folks ... so I know whose ass to kick."
- Obama to voters: "Republican victory would mean "hand to hand combat" (sic)
- Obama to liberal supporters: "It's time to Fight for it."
- Obama to Latino supporters: "Punish your enemies."

- Obama to democrats: "I'm itching for a fight."
- Obama regime to the American People: "Bring it (the fight) on."
- "They bring a knife (his opponents, the Republicans) we bring a gun."
- "Don't you think we're not keeping score, brother."
- "My administration is the only thing between you and the pitchforks."
- "Get ready for hand-to-hand combat with your fellow Americans."
- "Republicans are our enemies."
- "I am going to strangle all Republicans who don't agree with me politically."
- "All those who oppose me or my party, must ride in the back of the bus."
- "Damn Americans who cling bitterly to their 2nd amendment rights (the constitutional right to keep and bear arms)."
- "I hope all Americans who dare to criticize our great Marxist heroes die of screaming anal cancer!"
- "I have no problem with Democrats cheating to win elections, I'd do it in a heartbeat."
- "Governor Christie (New Jersey) is a fat slob."
- "We Democrats should rip the heart right out of Vice President of The United States of America Cheney's chest, use it for a football, and then stuff it back in his quivering corpse."

Now that you have done this, ask yourselves whether or not the statements fit in line with these two unusual deaths as well as those listed by BeforeItsNews.com. Here is their list of people with connections to Obama who have died "before their time." (Emphasis is mine!) The list includes Tamika Hill, "A former secretary for Obama's office in Chicago [who] was murdered July 6, 2005 at a rib shack on the south side. Hill had spoken off the record with a reporter from the Chicago Sun-Times about meetings Obama had with black militants in the city. She was murdered before she could ever be properly interviewed.” Harvey Kenton, “Head of Obama’s senatorial security team in Chicago. Gunned down in his car at a deserted intersection outside of Grant Park in 2005. Kenyon’s son said his father was building a dossier on Obama. He allegedly threatened to reveal this information. After he died, the files were mysteriously removed from his house.” Lawshawna Martin, “26 year old mother of five, a Cabrini Green [public housing] resident with a history of substance abuse. Told two of her co-workers at the Blue Peppermint Gentleman’s Club that she would have to quit work because she was pregnant again. Strongly implied that the ‘baby daddy’ was Barack Obama. The next week, she was reported missing. No body was ever recovered, but Lawshawna has not resurfaced since making those remarks.” (Don Fredrick at the The Obama Timeline has not independently confirmed any of the information in the article. It is included here because it relates to Obama. The list does not include the names Donald Young, Larry Bland, or Kam Kuwata, whose deaths have previously been noted in The Obama Timeline.)

Some other interesting, unsolved deaths are Quarles Harris, and Baby Obama(?). (Read The Obama Timeline, Part II, June 2009 section at <http://www.colony14.net/id159.html>, “Internet rumors can be found that suggest Baker, who lived near Washington, D.C. in Silver Springs, Maryland before relocating to the Caribbean, bore a child by Obama. The infant, with the last name Obama, was born in late October of 2004 and died less than two months later. The child’s Social Security number was issued in Maryland.”

Moreover, there are apparently no death certificates concerning the deaths of Stanley Anne Dunham (<http://drorly.blogspot.de/2009/01/more-on-stanley-ann-dunham-death.html>), or Obama’s American grandmother, Madelyn Lee Payne Dunham.

Now read this:

WND.com reports, “Arizona Sheriff Joe Arpaio told a radio host today he’s met with Republicans—including every one of the GOP presidential candidates—and has come to the conclusion they’re as guilty as Democrats of ‘hiding’ questions about ...Obama’s eligibility to be president. ...Arpaio and his Cold Case Posse conducted an extensive examination of documents released by the White House last April purported to be Obama's original, long-form birth certificate and Selective Service registration card, only to conclude there is probable cause the documents are actually forgeries. Yet despite his findings, Arpaio told 'Aaron Klein Investigative Radio' on New York's WABC Radio that media and politicians alike are afraid to touch the issue."

Now put two and two together and get the Chicago Five: Barack Hussein Obama, Michelle Obama, David Axelrod, Saul Alinsky, and William Ayers within the Chicago-Socialist-Communist-Democrat political swamp and you will readily realize why "media and politicians alike are afraid to touch the issue." It is nothing more than their wishing you and your family good health!

White House officials meet with representatives of the radical Muslim Brotherhood, which recently broke its promise not to have a member enter the presidential race in Egypt. According to AFP, the meeting is "...part of a series of US efforts to broaden engagement with new and emerging political parties following Egypt's revolution last year..." National Security Council spokesman Tommy Vietor comments, "We believe that it is in the interest of the United States to engage with all parties that are committed to democratic principles, especially nonviolence. In all our conversations with these groups, we emphasize the importance of respect for minority rights, the full inclusion of women, and our regional security concerns."

JT: Obama al akbar! Obama al-Akbar Obama al akbar! Obama al vomit!

Nine years after his capture, the Department of Defense finally approves charges against 9/11 mastermind Khalid Sheikh Mohammed and four other terrorists held at the Guantanamo facility. RawStory.com reports, "All five [al-Qaeda] members are charged with terrorism, hijacking aircraft, conspiracy, murder in violation of the law of war, attacking civilians, attacking civilian objects, intentionally causing serious bodily injury, and destruction of property in violation of the law of war. Each person will be sentenced to death if convicted of the charges.”

JT: They didn't do anything wrong! They acted in the name of the most perfect individual the world has ever experienced and the most perfect faith: Evil Mohammed and Evil Islam! They are now under the control of the most perfect president the world has ever experienced: Evil Obama!

***

AFP reports, “The Muslim Brotherhood’s candidate for Egypt’s presidency, Khairat el-Shater, has pledged to press for the implementation of sharia (Islamic law) if elected, a Muslim think tank said on Wednesday. Shater, whose candidacy for the May election sent political shock waves throughout the post-uprising country, said implementing the sharia was ‘his first and final goal,’ said the Legal Authority for Rights and Reform after meeting with him on Tuesday.”

JT: A Muslim think tank? It's more like a Muslim stink tank! How do you solve a problem like sharia? You exterminate it!

[Obama’s] strategy is already working, at least at the New York Times. Right on cue, columnist Maureen Dowd savaged the court: ‘This court, cosseted behind white marble pillars, out of reach of TV, accountable to no one once they give the last word, is well on its way to becoming one of the most divisive in modern American history. It has squandered even the semi-illusion that it is the unbiased, honest guardian of the Constitution. It is run by hacks dressed up in black robes.’

JT: Maureen Dowd is not true to her/his name. Maureen is Irish-Gaelic and means star of the sea! Dowd, pronounced Dawd, is American English. It is a boy's name and means serious minded man! Now, since Maureen Dowd is lesbian – at least that is what the internet search tells me and the internet doesn't lie, unless Obama wants it to lie – the situation is that s/he is criticizing the Supreme Court because the Supreme Court will not listen to stars of the seas who are female and at the same time serious minded men. Now that is a contradiction. Moreover, the ineptitude that Maureen Dowd and Barack Hussein Obama show is that laws are judged according moral, ethical, and legal principles, not according to emotion. Oh yes! Both are duds, oops Dowds! Maureen Dowd, Barack Hussein Obama, the lamestream media and all of their followers and minions are like cement: all mixed up and permanently set.

Don Fredrick at The Obama Timeline, (April 2012) reports: "One unnamed faculty member of the University of Chicago relates that Obama 'never attended any of the faculty meetings,' and had the "lowest intellectual capacity in the building."

JT: These are superb qualifications to be a Democratic Party member and a Democratic Party occupier of the Oval Office!

Obama to the Jewish people in the United States and Israel: "I'd like to wish a happy holiday to all those celebrating Passover. The story of the Exodus is thousands of years old but it remains as relevant as ever. Throughout our history there are those who have targeted the Jewish people for harm. In fact, we were so painfully reminded of it just a few weeks ago in Toulouse [France, where a Muslim shot and killed four Jews]. Just as throughout history, there have been those who have sought to oppress others because of their faith, ethnicity, or color of their skin. But tomorrow night, Jews around the world will renew their faith that liberty will ultimately prevail over tyranny. They will give thanks for the blessings of freedom while remembering those who are still not free, and they will ask one of our life's most difficult questions, 'Once we've passed from bondage to liberty, how do we make the most of all that God has given us?' This question may never be resolved, but throughout the years, the search for answers has deepened the Jewish people's commitment to repairing the world, and inspired American Jews to help make our union more perfect. And the story of that first Exodus has also inspired those who are not Jewish with common hopes, and a common sense of obligation. So this is a very special tradition, and it's one I'm proud to be taking part of tomorrow night at the fourth annual White House Seder. Led by Jewish members of my staff, we'll retell the story of the Exodus, listen to our youngest guests ask the four questions, and, of course, look forward to a good bowl of Matzah Ball soup. Michelle and I are proud to celebrate with friends here at home, and around the world, including those in the State of Israel. So, on behalf of the entire Obama family, Chag Sameach!"

JT: coming from anyone else but Obama, I would say these are good words. However, because they come from Obama, I say they are nothing more than al-taqiyya!, in short, deception for Jewish votes. Obama could care less about what happens to Jews and Israel. Rumor has it that he gagged for breath on the Matzah Ball soup. The Yiddish is kneydlekh. But knowing that Obama cannot pronounce some English words correctly, he would have gagged on trying to pronounce this word.

Mario Apuzzo writes at his blog, "The Objection to Obama's nominating petition is that he has not provided competent and sufficient evidence to the New Jersey Secretary of State showing his identity and that he was born in the United States, and that even if he were born in the United States, he is not and cannot be an Article II 'natural born Citizen' because he was not born to two U.S. citizen parents. The Objection therefore demands that the Secretary of State not permit Obama's name to be printed on the primary and general election ballot."

JT: When are these Birthers going to stop claiming that Obama is not a natural born citizen? All of his forged documents show that he is a natural born citizen. There are no documents that show he was a caesarian birth. His birth was natural. The question is, of what country? The final word on whether or not to allow Obama's name to appear on the New Jersey ballot will be the decision of the New Jersey

Secretary of State. It would not surprise me if the decision went along the lines that the Democratic National Committee approved his qualifications in 2008 and there is no reason to doubt their decision then and their decision to have him as the Democratic Party presidential contender in 2012. Should the Secretary of State decide pro-Obama, Mario Apuzzo can appeal the decision. Should the Secretary of State decide against Obama, his lawyers could appeal the decision. This could go as far as the Supreme Court. However, that takes time and until then the election could be over. Even if Obama is not on the New Jersey state ballot, he could still win the election. Yup!

The following is from Atlas Shrugs: "Former SS member and German Nobel literature laureate Guenter Grass labeled Israel a threat to world peace in a poem published Wednesday that drew sharp rebukes at home and from Israel.

Not only does the AP leaves the SS factoid out of the headline; they don't mention it until the near bottom of their article.....talk about burying the lede. The AP didn't mention the fact that Guenter Grass was a member of "the Waffen-SS, the combat arm of the Nazis' paramilitary organization" until the very end of the article (as were the comments in defense of the tiny Jewish state).

"What must also be said is that Israel is the world's only nation whose right to exist is publicly questioned," the Israeli Embassy in Germany said in a statement. "We want to live in peace with our neighbors in the region."

"Guenter Grass is turning the situation upside-down by defending a brutal regime that not only disregards but openly violates international agreements for many years," said Deidre Berger, director of the American Jewish Committee in Berlin.

"Iran is the threat for world peace — and Israel the only democracy in the entire region, and at the same time the world's only whose right to exist is openly questioned," said Charlotte Knobloch, a former leader of Germany's Jewish community.

Efraim Zuroff, who leads the Nazi-hunting Simon Wiesenthal Center in Jerusalem, called Grass' poem "outrageous," adding it appeared to be a sign of Israel "becoming the whipping boy for the frustrations of those who are sick of hearing about the Holocaust."

German Chancellor Angela Merkel is a staunch ally of Israel, and her spokesman reacted coolly to Grass' remarks.

"There is artistic freedom in Germany, and there thankfully also is the freedom of the government not to have to comment on every artistic production," Steffen Seibert said.

Nobel winner Grass: Israel a threat to world peace AP

BERLIN (AP) — German Nobel literature laureate Guenter Grass labeled Israel a threat to "already fragile world peace" in a poem published Wednesday that drew sharp rebukes at home and from Israel.

In the poem titled "What must be said," published in German daily Sueddeutsche Zeitung and Italy's La Repubblica among others, Grass criticized what he described as Western hypocrisy over Israel's own suspected nuclear program amid speculation that it might engage in military action against Iran to stop it building a suspected atomic bomb.

The 84-year-old Grass said he had been prompted to put pen to paper by Berlin's recent decision to sell Israel a submarine able to "send all-destroying warheads where the existence of a single nuclear bomb is unproven."

"The nuclear power Israel is endangering the already fragile world peace," he wrote. His poem specifically criticized Israel's "claim to the right of a first strike" against Iran.

Grass also called for "unhindered and permanent control of Israel's nuclear capability and Iran's atomic facilities through an international body."

JT: "Ich schwöre Dir, Adolf Hitler, als Führer Treue und Tapferkeit. Ich gelobe Dir und den von Dir bestimmten Vorgesetzten Gehorsam bis den Tod, so wahr mir Gott helfe."

(The oath of the SS: I swear to you Adolf Hitler, Führer and Chancellor, obedience and bravery. I swear to you and to those whom you appoint, obedience until death, so help me God!

During the Third Reich you could tell an SS man. In 2012, Gunter Grass has proved that you can't tell him much!

Newsbusters.org posts MSNBC anchor O'Donnell's statement: "Mormonism was created by a guy in upstate New York in 1830 when he got caught having sex with the maid and explained to his wife that God told him to do it. Forty-eight wives later, Joseph Smith's lifestyle was completely sanctified in the religion he invented to go with it. Which Mitt Romney says he believes."

JT: This is the same that Mohammed did in Islam except for:

1. It wasn't in upstate New York.
2. Mohammed included pedophilia.
3. Mohammed included bestiality by not excluding it.
4. Mohammed said he believed in the moon-god Allah-Hubal.
5. Mohammed said that all non-believers must be killed or pay the jizya tax.
6. Mohammed said that believers must honor a meteorite.
7. Etc, etc, etc, ad infinitum.

Joseph Smith said that Mormons believe in God, not a moon god. Joseph Smith did not preach killing those who did not believe in Mormonism. Joseph Smith used no force in establishing Mormonism and in winning converts to Mormonism. Methinks that NBC's Lawrence O'Donnell is whackey on the subject!

Santita Jackson, eldest daughter of race hustler Jesse “you’re blocking the camera” Jackson, ... lists Reverend Jeremiah “God damn America” Wright among her “activities and interests.”

JT: Evidently, intelligence and logic is not one of Santita Jackson's fortitudes. In what kinds of activities is Santita Jackson interested in with Jeremiah "God damn America" Wright.? What does this say about her interests? To me it says she is weird! She is directly the opposite of what her name implies:

What does the name “Santita” mean? A name is much more than just a name!

S is for special, you are, you know!

A is for amenable, for your easy going nature.

N is for nice, need I say more?

T is for thoughtful, the caring you.

I is for ideals, no higher!

T is for treasure, that of your friendship.

A is for altruism, the unselfish you.

(Source: <http://www.themeaningofnames.org/?n=Santita&m=&d=&y=&go=Go>)

The Urban Dictionary – the Jacksons are surely urban – gives the meaning of Santita:

A word that is yelled when something goes bad that would mentally or physically hurt!

*fail exam* SANTITA!!!

*get kicked in the balls* SANTITA!!!

Don Fredrick writes at The Obama timeline in April: "For the record, Obama has played an incredible amount of golf since entering the Oval Office and almost never has female players on the course with him. More women have played golf at August than have played golf with Obama. It is believed that White House policy advisor Melody Barnes is the only woman ever to have played golf with Obama. She received the invitation after he was criticized for golfing only with men—and she reportedly beat him.

JT: Had Obama invited me to play golf with him I would have beat him, too. With drivers, irons, putters, even the golf bag and then I would have claimed that he did it all to himself.

On April 4 WhiteHouseDossier.com reports, "A pastor who attended the Easter Prayer Breakfast at the White House today was wearing a hoodie sweater, apparently in support of Trayvon Martin, the black youth who was killed by George Zimmerman." (Al Sharpton also attends.) At the event, Obama states, "For like us, Jesus knew doubt. Like us, Jesus knew fear. In the garden of Gethsemane, with attackers closing in around him, Jesus told His disciples, 'my soul is overwhelmed with sorrow to the point of death.'" (The emotion of fear is understandable, but Christians might wonder why Obama argued that Jesus suffered doubt. Alan Schreck, a professor of theology at Franciscan University of Steubenville, tells CNSNews.com, "My question is what would He be doubting? Would He be doubting the Father's care and merciful love? Is He doubting the value of his mission? I don't think there is any real context that I could understand to say Jesus doubted. [Obama] doesn't make it clear what He was doubting. He was giving a general statement. I don't want to pretend I knew what [Obama] intended but I would think the word 'doubt' would not be suitable because it doesn't make it clear what He's doubting. He didn't doubt the mission he was sent on. He predicted his passion, according to the scriptures." Denny Burk, an associate professor of biblical studies at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, asks, "Does the Bible really teach that Christ had doubts and fears on the same order as our own? The Bible in fact never teaches such a thing, and it diminishes Christ's achievement to suggest otherwise. In the Bible, doubt and fear are sins. In fact, Jesus Himself describes doubt as the opposite of faith. In very explicit terms, Jesus himself commands his disciples not to 'fear' those who persecute them. No less than seven times, Jesus himself commands his disciples not to be 'anxious' about their lives. [For Obama] To say that Jesus had doubts and fears is to make him into a transgressor.")

JT: I'm convinced that Obama confused the word debt with doubt. Jesus did not doubt! Never! Jesus knew debt; His debt to humankind. Obama knows debt, but not his debt. Obama knows that debt can be paid off by printing money. Jesus knew that his debt was to be paid by sacrifice! We have no debts for Jesus Christ.

We have a debt to Obama: Absolute defeat in November 2012!
