JUST THINKING

Number 26

JT NOTICE: In the last JUST THINKING Number 25, yours truly made a mistake in giving the names of the Obama children as Saskia and Malia. Their names are Natasha (Sasha) and Malia. I apologize for the error.

I must add: Do you think that Obama will ever apologize for his innumerable errors? Of course he, himself, is a big mistake. However, no apologies will be forthcoming. Evil never apologizes!

The Obama team has told reporters that his not going to Israel in the first term was a 'distraction,' but Obama would go to Israel in a second term.

JT: He will go only if Israel ceases to exist. Then he won't have to go because Israel won't exist.

In Reno, Nevada, Obama addresses the VFW, saying, "Just as you protected America, we're going to pass our country to the next generation, stronger and safer and more respected in the world. So if anyone tries to tell you that our greatness has passed, that America is in decline, you tell them this: Just like the 20th century, the 21st is going to be another great American Century. For we are Americans, blessed with the greatest form of government ever devised by man, a democracy dedicated to freedom and committed to the ideals that still light the world. We will never apologize for our way of life; we will never waver in its defense."

JT: The translation is this: "Just as you protected America, we're going to pass our country to the next generation without protection, weaker and less safer and dis-respected in the world. So if anyone tries to tell you like me that our greatness has passed, that America is in decline, they are correct. You tell them this: Just like the 20th century, the 21st is going to be a World Community Umma Century. For we are no longer Americans. We are Muslim Ummas. We are blessed with the greatest form of Islam ever devised, a Umma dedicated to freedom and committed to the ideals that still light the world. We will always apologize for our former way of life; we will always waver in its defense. Allah hop! Allah hop! Allah hop!"

Congresswoman Michelle Bachmann has questioned how Huma Abedin, a top aide to Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, received a security clearance. Her brother, father, and mother are all linked to the Muslim Brotherhood. Democrats and weak-kneed liberal Republicans are condemning her and other members of Congress for asking the question and wanting to investigate the influence of the Muslim Brotherhood within the U.S. government.

JT: Methinks that the situation is this: The Clintons are probably on the payroll of Saudi Arabia. The Muslim Brotherhood is an internationally recognized organization of peace. The members of Congress who are criticizing Michelle Bachmann and her colleagues are on the Muslim Brotherhood payroll.

Obama political strategist David Axelrod appears on MSNBC's Morning Joe and says, "I can tell you that [Obama] did not leak classified information, as Mitt Romney suggested yesterday, and he didn't authorize the leak of information, as Mitt Romney suggested yesterday."

JT: This one is easy. Obama declassified the information and then released it.

Obama releases a new ad—in Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Ohio, Iowa, and Nevada—in which he states, "Those ads, taking my words about small business out of context, they're flat-out wrong."

JT: Let me put this and Obama in context. Obama said, "If you've got a business—you didn't build that. Somebody else made that happen. Look, if you've been successful, you didn't get there on your own. You didn't get there on your own. I'm always struck by people who think, well, it must be because I was just so smart." The context is the context. Now for Obama. He is not smart because what he has become has always been done for him by other people. That is why he never ran a business. He is economically dumb. He is politically evil. Putting him in a real context would be placing him on a scaffold with a noose around his neck.

TheHill.com reports, "The nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office on Tuesday said repealing …Obama's healthcare reform would increase the deficit by $109 billion over 10 years. This is a new re-estimate in light of June's Supreme Court ruling that upheld most of the law, and it is a smaller deficit increase than CBO previously had linked to the repeal. …In March 2011, CBO said that the law would reduce the deficit by $210 billion over 10 years, despite increasing spending by $1.042 trillion over 10 years, from 2012 until 2021."

JT: I think that the easiest way to get rid of ObamaCare has two options:

1. Romney wins the elections and the Republicans win in the House and Senate. Romney sings a presidential directive that everything Obama signed into law is null and void because he was in office illegally.

2. Institute court cases declaring that ObamaCare is unconstitutional based upon the argument that it is collectively cruel-and-unusual punishment of the citizenry.

The Obama Timeline reports that "Venezuela's dictator, Hugo Chavez calls Obama "a good guy" and Mitt Romney a supporter of 'the extreme right-wing agenda that borders on the fascism of the United States.'

Congressman Billy Long (R-MO) responds to the implementation of the ObamaCare regulations with the comment, "We're still home of the brave, but we're not the land of the free anymore. And we need to get that straight. When you're not free to practice religious freedom in this country, what in the world have we come to? Seriously, goodness gracious." Congressman Alan Nunnelee (R-MS) says, "It's outrageous that this administration believes it's within their power to force people to violate their right of religion if it interferes with this administration's agenda. It should disturb people of all faiths, or for that matter people of no faith at all, that …Obama has such a low opinion of the First Amendment that he would trample on these rights."

JT: Not only is Obama tramping on the First Amendment Rights, a Muslim is trampling on them. Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline points out the exemption will apply to almost no organization. I maintain that the only organization that will be exempted will be Islam! Allah hop! Allah hop! Allah hop!

One major problem is that the Obama administration does not know much about the rebel groups, which are likely influenced, if not controlled, by al-Qaeda or Muslim Brotherhood militants. As bad as the Assad regime may be, what replaces it may be worse for both the United States and Israel.

JT: Israel will eventually be surrounded by Muslim Brotherhood Egypt. Muslim Brotherhood Lebanon, Muslim Brotherhood Syria, Muslim Brotherhood Iraq, and Muslim Brotherhood Iran after Syria falls. I forgot, Muslim Brotherhood USA, established by Barack Hussein Obama, in the form of warships in the Mediterranean Sea aimed at Israel will complete the encirclement of Israel.

The Democrats have become addicted to the word thirve. It will surely be used in future speeches and interviews, such as Obama is committed to policies that make businesses thrive, etc.

JT: Thrive!!! Stanley Kurtz in his new book Spreading the Wealth: How Obama is Robbing the Suburbs to Pay for the Cities proves that Obama is an urbanite, not a suburbanite. Appropriate definitions of thrive and thriver in an urbanite setting from the Urban Dictionary are:

"The word 'thrive' originates from a Central Auckland crew commonly known as the 'Ultimate Thrivers'. This prestigous bunch of people developed the word during many drunk nights and good times. It has many meanings but generally donates fun, success, happiness and good times. Obama's one thriving mutha fucka."

Obama is a thriver. Appropriate definitions from the Urban Dictionary are:

"one who steals other peoples' ideas and fronts like its their own. It is a real bitchy action and often leads to friend-loss, a serious condition that has no cure. A thriver lives off of others and has no originality. Even saying the word thriver makes one a thriver because only one person truly discovered that word. Thrivers are very sneaky and manipulative and will try to convince you that you are the actually the one thriving.

O my gaw that bitch (Moose Michelle) is so thriving.

Obama stop being a fucking thriver.

The 'Thrive' is commonly known as a way to think/party/experience...or perhaps even a way of life. It is not only a word to define such endless possibilities, but a total lifestyle change & development. Thrivers can be found from Wed-Sun night, in an over-populated area, or identified by a mere dance move, to an outrageous talk, unknown to many, recognisably understood by Thrivers. Such talk is exampled by a man-Kris Sproull, i.e., 'The shoelace of a furious masturbator is one of many tools he must take with him to meet Moose Michelle' "

Yup!!! Typical Obamas and typical Democrats.

Churches Should Not Be Built in Islamic Countries. http://atlasshrugs2000.typepad.com/atlas_shrugs/2012/07/churches-should-not-be-built-in-islamic-countries.html.

JT: Well, we can call the churches cultural centers. I think that mosques and/or Islamic cultural centers (a contradiction in terms), or whatever they would be called should not be erected in Western Democracies because such institutions eventually turn into meeting places for a dogma that has as its goal the destruction of western democratic, republican institutions. Perhaps the West ought to take the attitude of Poland. There are only two mosques that are historical constructions. They were built by the Tartars. One is located in Bhuniki, and one is in Kruziani. There are no modern-day constructed mosques or cultural centers. The Poles do not want them. As far as I have been able to find out, there is a law against building mosques in present-day Poland. (I haven't found a legal source, but the indications are very strong that mosques are prohibited.) The Polish are a proud people and they have a very dim view of Islam and Muslims. That is a true, healthy attitude. It was the Polish Army under the leadership of the King of Poland John III Sobieski that stopped the Turkish-Islamic invasion of Europe at the gates of Vienna on 11 to 12 September, 1683. What a wonderful, historic victory!

According to Gallup polling, Obama's rating is at or above 50 percent in only 13 states and the District of Columbia: Hawaii, Rhode Island, Vermont, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Washington, Illinois, Delaware, and Minnesota.

JT: The statement is perfectly wonderful. It shows what Obama really is: a grave digger for the United States of America. One digs oneself out of a deep hole. If you dig "out a deep hole," you just keep digging until the depth satisfies you. Of course there is also the meaning that one cannot dig out a hole. One digs a hole. I can picture digging out a hole. There is a hole Obama! Dig it out! No wonder he can't fix the economy and the economic hole! He's trying to dig out something that is already a hole. It just can't be done. What a great rhetorician the thug is!

http://latimesblogs.latimes.com/washington/2009/10/chicago-olympics-michelle-obama.html reports that Michelle Obama said the following to the Olympic Organizing Committee in 2009: " I was born and raised on Chicago's South Side, not far from where the Games would open and close. Ours was a neighborhood of working families -- families with modest homes and strong values.

Sports were what brought our community together. They strengthen our ties to one another.

Growing up, when I played games with the kids in my neighborhood, we picked sides based not on who you were, but what you could bring to the game. Sports taught me self-confidence, teamwork, and how to compete as an equal.

Sports were a gift I shared with my dad -- especially the Olympic Games.

Some of my best memories are sitting on my dad's lap, cheering on Olga and Nadia, Carl Lewis, and ... others for their brilliance and perfection. Like so many young people, I was inspired. I found myself dreaming that maybe, just maybe, if I worked hard enough, I, too, could achieve something great."

JT: This is hard to beat!

From Michelle Obama's failed pitch to the International Olympic Committee:

"Some of my best memories are sitting on my dad's lap, cheering on Olga and Nadia, Carl Lewis, and others for their brilliance and perfection."

Um. Ew. Oof.

Mrs. Obama was 20 years old when Lewis first competed in the Olympics in 1984.

I gotta say that First Ladies right now don’t [get paid], even though that’s a tough job!”

JT: Don't be surprised if somehow Obama rigs the law (breaks the law) so that both he and Michelle will receive pay after they are out of the White House. Or, if he is re-elected, the law will be broken and he will receive a raise and Michelle will receive a yearly salary.

The personification of genius, Michelle Obama, tells radio host Tom Joyner, “All of us know that one person in our lives—that one knucklehead nephew that’s [sic] not registered to vote. That one neighbor who’s not really paying attention. That one co-worker who’s confused about how Barack’s tax plan will benefit that individual. Those are going to be the conversations that make the difference. And in this election, we’re gonna be making a choice about how we want our democracy run. You know, do we want our [next] president selected by people rolling their sleeves up, knocking on doors, or are we gonna hand it over to a couple of people who write big checks?”

The 2012 World Summer Olympics closes today in London! Here is an interesting text from Follow the Money.com:

"Covered in clothing from head to toe, except for her smiling face poking out from her hood, Attar made her debut five days after a Saudi judo athlete became the ultraconservative country's first female competitor at any Olympics.

'This is such a huge honor and an amazing experience, just to be representing the women,' Attar said in an interview with The Associated Press. 'I know that this can make a huge difference.'

The 19-year-old Attar ran 800 meters in 2 minutes, 44.95 seconds. To her, the time wasn't the point.

Her mother is American and her father is Saudi. She has dual citizenship, was born in California and runs track at Pepperdine University near Los Angeles.

Attar wanted to represent Saudi Arabia at the Olympics as a way of inspiring women.

'For women in Saudi Arabia, I think this can really spark something to get more involved in sports, to become more athletic,' she said. 'Maybe in the next Olympics, we can have a very strong team to come.

JT: My opinion is that allowing these Muslim anti-world Olympics females to participate in their own garb is nothing but kowtowing to Islam!

Palestine is now a country? Even Barack Hussein Obama sucker upper Wikipedia writes, as quoted by Follow the Money (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Palestine), that Palestine "is a conventional name, among others, used to describe the geographic region between the Mediterranean Sea and the Jordan River, and various adjoining lands. The region is also known as the Land of Israel (Hebrew: ארשי־ץרא Eretz-Yisra'el), the Holy Land and the Southern Levant, and historically has been known by other names including Canaan, Zion, Syria Palaestina, Southern Syria, Jund Filastin and Outremer.

The boundaries of the region have changed throughout history, and were first defined in modern times by the Franco-British boundary agreement (1920) and the Transjordan memorandum of 16 September 1922, during the mandate period. Today, the region comprises the country of Israel and the Palestinian territories.

The term Palestine has also been used to refer to the State of Palestine which, since the Palestinian Declaration of Independence in 1988, has referred to a state in the Palestinian territories on 22% of former Mandatory Palestine. In 1993, following the Oslo peace accords, the Palestinian Authority has been established on parts of West Bank and Gaza Strip. During 2006-2007, Gaza Strip under Hamas leadership had violently split from the Palestinian Authority and continues to perform de facto rule over the strip. The status of Palestinian Authority as the State of Palestine is recognized today by approximately two-thirds of the world's countries, although this status is not recognized by the United Nations, Israel and some Western nations such as the United States." The situation is a bogus creation of the Islamic countries because they do not want Palestinians in their own countries.

JT: A third Muslim told me that this woman must also be stoned in public because she is showing a mmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmoustache! And she has a double chin. Muslim women in Saudi Arabia are not allowed to have two chins. This right is reserved for Saudi men. It is a symbol of their Islamic right to say one thing and mean another!
