JT: At the Democratic National Convention hundreds of thousands of Muslims, no! millions upon millions* of Obama's Muslims opened the Jumah with prayers to the moon-god Allah-Hubal. They treat women with so much love and respect that the women were assigned to rear positions (Freudian Slip!) during the accolades to Obama and Allah-Hubal. Sublimely, methinks that the Muslim men are so dumb to make women take a rear position (the Freudian Slip again). Isn't it obvious to them that the women want to be in back of the men so that they can keep their eyes on them and not let them out of their sight? This is a control that Mohammed and Islam never thought about! Allah hop! Allah hop! Allah hop!

(*about 200 were present)

At <http://rt.com/news/russian-space-defense-ocean-053/> we read "Russia is developing a sea-based missile- and space-defense system, which will be deployed in international waters. The system is expected to become an integral part of the Russian Navy.

The construction of the new sea-based missile-defense system has been entrusted to Almaz-Antey, the arms manufacturer that also produces the S-400 'Triumph' missile defense system.

Anatoly Shlemov, the head of national defense orders for Russia's United Shipbuilding Corporation, told RIA Novosti that "this task has been definitely set for the [Russian] military-industrial complex."

Almaz-Antey is not working alone on the planned system, Shelmov said, without specifying additional details about the top-secret project.

At the St. Petersburg Economic Forum earlier this year, President Roman Trotsenko of the United Shipbuilding Corporation announced that the USC would begin construction in 2016 of a series of six nuclear-powered destroyers armed with high-tech missile- and space- defense system.

Trotsenko called the warships "benchmarks of Russian space defense in the World Ocean," but refused to comment further on the plans.

JT: The article forgot one major item: Barack Hussein Obama has provided Russia with the Top Secret knowledge necessary to begin the program and developments.

Karl Marx Meets Barack Hussein Obama

JT: At least Karl Marx was man enough and intelligent enough to comprehend that he could never occupy the chair! For more Obama Chairs go to <http://iowntheworld.com/blog/?p=147909>.

The Obama Timeline reports that "HillBuzz.org contributes more to its August 31 story that Obama is allegedly seeking an expensive oceanfront mansion in Hawaii—and needs it by January 2013: “The woman who is organizing the funding of the Obama’s post-presidential estate is Penny Pritzker... who is also in charge of raising the donations for Obama’s presidential library and museum. The two are more or less the same project, with the priority being to get the $35 million together to fund the purchase of the Obamas’ new home. It appears that Pritzker herself may contribute up to half of the total purchase price, making up the difference from whatever the Obamas could not afford and the fundraising wouldn’t cover. ...The wealthiest families in Chicago are being leaned on heavily to contribute with Penny aggressively guiltig them with ‘appeals of you don’t want [the Obamas] to be homeless in January, do you?’”

JT: As far as I'm concerned they can be homeless forever. Oops! Rumor has it that they own a hut in Kenya!

Maryland Governor Martin O'Malley appears on Face the Nation and says Americans are not better off than they were four years ago. On CNN's Starting Point he says, “We are clearly better off as a country because we’re now creating jobs rather than losing them. But we have not recovered all that we lost in the Bush recession. That’s why we need to continue to move forward.”

JT: "The sky is falling. No it isn't! Yes, the sky is falling! No, it isn't! I'm Maryland Governor Martin O'Malley and I approve this message."

JT: There is an American National Empty Chair Movement (although the CINC chair is supposed to be occupied by Mr. Zero!): <http://iowntheworld.com/blog/?p=148029>; <http://iowntheworld.com/blog/?p=147996>; <http://iowntheworld.com/blog/?p=147961>; <http://iowntheworld.com/blog/?p=147922>.

Obama comments on the Republican National Convention, saying "Everything’s bad. It’s Obama’s fault. And Governor Romney is the only one who knows the secret to creating jobs and growing the economy."

JT. Great arguments for the election of Romney and Ryan.

JT: Become an American Patriot and join the President's Enemies List!

Campaigning in Las Vegas, Obama says, "I'm here to say to all of you and to say to the people of Nevada and the people of Las Vegas, we can't wait for an increasingly dysfunctional Congress to do its job. Where they won't act, I will. I've told my administration to keep looking every single day for actions we can take without Congress, steps that can save consumers money, make government more efficient and responsive, and help heal the economy. And we're going to be announcing these executive actions on a regular basis."

JT: Methinks the dictator is saying he will continue being a dictator.

Democrat political operative James Carville: "Ideologies aren't all that important. What's important is psychology. The Democratic constituency is just like a herd of cows. All you have to do is lay out enough silage and they come running. That's why I became an operative working with Democrats. With Democrats all you have to do is make a lot of noise, lay out the hay, and be ready to use the ole cattle prod in case a few want to bolt the herd. Eighty percent of the people who call themselves Democrats don't have a clue as to political reality. What amazes me is that you could take a group of people who are hard workers and convince them that they should support social programs that were the exact opposite of their own personal convictions. Put a little fear here and there and you can get people to vote any way you want. The voter is basically dumb and lazy. The reason I became a Democratic operative instead of a Republican was because there were more Democrats that didn't have a clue than there were Republicans. Truth is relative. Truth is what you can make the voter believe is the truth. If you're smart enough, truth is what you make the voter think it is. That's why I'm a Democrat. I can make the Democratic voters think whatever I want them to."

JT: I knew it all along. Democrats are not just dumbed down, they are dumb!

JT: Check out all of them! <http://www.alandcalledamerica.com/guardians-of-liberty>.

From Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline JT received the following hilarious information that is making the rounds of the Internet:

When Obama died, George Washington met him at the Pearly Gates. He slapped him across the face and yelled, "How dare you try to destroy the Nation I helped conceive?"

Patrick Henry approached, punched him in the nose and shouted, "You wanted to end our liberties but you failed."

James Madison followed, kicked him in the groin and said, "This is why I allowed our government to provide for the common defense!"

Thomas Jefferson was next, beat Obama with a long cane and snarled, "It was evil men like you who inspired me to write the Declaration of Independence."

The beatings and thrashings continued as James Monroe and 66 other early Americans unleashed their anger on the radical, socialist, leader.

As Obama lay bleeding and in pain, an Angel appeared. Obama wept and said, "This is not what you promised me."

The Angel replied, "I told you there would be 72 VIRGINIANS waiting for you in Heaven. What did you think I said? You really need to listen when someone is trying to tell you something!"

JT: Mohammed and the Koran say that there will 72 grapes awaiting those of the Islamic faith when they go to the Islamic paradise: Jannah. The word in question is hur, which Arabic translates as virgins. However, hur is the feminine plural adjective that means white. Christoph Luxenberg in The Syro-Aramaic Reading of the Koran: A Contribution to the Decoding of the Language of the Koran, Verlag Hans Schreiber, Berlin: 2000, proves beyond a doubt that hur means white raisins or grapes. (pp. 254. 256, 259)

LifeNews.com reports, "Democrats have removed any mention of God from their party platform, dropping language from the 2008 version that at least had a passing reference to the Creator whom the founders of the nation explained grants the rights we enjoy."

JT: Why not? It's progressive, it's anti-American, it's pro Muslim Brotherhood, it's pro Islam. What would you expect from a rat party that wants to worship the moon? Allah hop! Allah hop! Allah hop!

(Later, they reinserted God! Now that is power!!!)

Most reporters and so-called intelligent political pundits say that Barack Hussein Obama's acceptance speech for the nomination as the Democrat Party candidate for the office of the presidency was "not that bad", "It was a very good speech!"

JT: Here are my comments on Obama's acceptance speech:

Source: <http://peepedangle.blogspot.de/2011/08/nothingness.html>

Here's another comment on Obama's acceptance speech:

The point here is simply that nihility is always a nihility for self-existence, that is to say, a nihility that we posit ourselves on the side of the "existence" of our self-existence. From this it follows that nihility comes to be represented as something outside of the existence of the self and all things, as some "thing" absolutely other than existence, some "thing" called nothingness. The problem is that traces of the common view that simply sets nothingness over against existence as a mere conceptual negation persist. The longstanding Western view of nothingness has yet to divest itself of this way of thinking. The śūnyatā we speak of points to a fundamentally different viewpoint.

Emptiness in the sense of śūnyatā is emptiness only when it empties itself even of the standpoint that represents it as some "thing" that is emptiness. It is, in its original Form, self-emptying.

It can be termed an absolute negativity, inasmuch as it is a standpoint that has negated and thereby transcended nihility, which was itself the transcendence-through-negation of all being. It can also be termed an absolute transcendence of being, as it absolutely denies and distances itself from any standpoint shackled in any way whatsoever to being. In this sense, emptiness can well be described as "outside" of and absolutely "other" than the standpoint shackled to being, provided we avoid the misconception that emptiness is some "thing" distinct from being and subsisting "outside" of it.

In spite of its transcendence of the standpoint shackled to being, or rather because of it, emptiness can only appear as a self-identity with being, in a relationship of śive by which both being and emptiness are seen as co-present from the start and structurally inseparable from one another. Hence, talk of transcendence does not entail withdrawing off to some transcendent "thing" called emptiness or nothingness. Emptiness lies absolutely on the near side, more so than what we normally regard as our own self. Emptiness, or nothingness, is not something we can turn to. It is not something "out there" in front of us.
