Obama's Crap

Obama's crap is with us still,
The skies above are dark and dull,
There are no songs of cheer again
America's days aren't here again.

All together, we've been had,
We're all together more than sad,
So spread the word about it now,
America's days aren't here again.

Obama and troubles aren't gone,
There'll be more of him from now on,
Forward now on,
America's days aren't here again.

Obama's crap is with us still,
The skies above are dark and dull,
There are no songs of cheer again
America's days aren't here again.

JT: To close out the Election Day, November 6, 2012, there was no renewal of the United States of America. Instead Barack Hussein Obama held a victory speech. Barack Hussein Obama had a photo-op to show his gratitude to the people living in the United States of America, legally and illegally, and as a souvenir for those who voted for him legally and illegally.

After the photo-op, he made the following announcement: "I, Barack Hussein Obama and my moose Michelle, are going back to our White House now. She will take as many extended vacations as she desires and I will play as much golf as I want. I will also look for a new body servant. Before and after January 20, 2013, I will direct my slaves in all government offices and federal departments to go after every single one of my political opponents and throw them under the bus. I have instructed them to make sure that heads will roll. I will decimate America's defenses. I will make the economy grow to minus percents. I will appoint a Muslim cleric to become the chief imam of the new national religion. I will ask Allah-Hubal to guide me through my illuminated regime for the next four years, and possibly into a caliphate. I will make sure that peace will come to the Middle East by guaranteeing Iran the right to have and to use the nuclear bomb, if they deem it necessary. I am going to ask my Muslim Brotherhood friends that the United States of Islam America be admitted to the Umma as member country 58. I am Barack Hussein Obama and I approve this message of revenge!"

I am signing off now because I do not want my name to become infected and damaged by it appearing on the same page as a photograph of Barack Hussein Obama.

Barack Hussein Obama also had a revenge photograph made for those Americans who are anti-Obama. The photograph that reflects his real attitude towards America and Americans, regardless of who they are, was provided exclusively to JT by http://peacemoonbeam.typepad.com/Obama%20finger\_S.jpg.
