JUST THINKING

JT: I never thought I'd do this. Well, I didn't. Obama did. It is the present status of the United States of America after four years of Obama treason. It is the future of America for the next four years of Obama treason. It will last as long as the DemocRATS treason is in power.

JT: Hollywood Progressives, Obots, Leftists, and Dumb-downers are gaga! Rumor has it that the contraption will replace the Oscar. They can wear one around their necks.

JT: O Barry! I used to have one of those!

Slow news day?: "Obama in Pee Pee" takes over the news at <http://exposingliberalallies.blogspot.de/>.

Glenn Beck places a small figurine of Obama in a glass jar of beer and places it for sale on eBay for $250,000. According to Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline, "Beck is mocking the artist who painted Obama on a cross, as well as the government-subsidized "artist" who placed a crucifix in a jar of urine and called it 'Piss Christ.' Beck calls his creation 'Obama in Pee Pee.' Leftists who believe only conservatives and Christianity should be ridiculed are, of course, outraged.

JT: Methinks it is an insult to beer and pee pee.

On November 29 DailyCaller.com reports that Obama's U.N. ambassador, Susan Rice, In argued in a 1986 book "...for the aggressive inclusion of a black history curriculum in American schools, claiming that its omission had 'crippling effects' by 'providing a child with no more than... a white interpretation of reality.'" In A Deferred History, Rice wrote, "American history cannot be understood fully or evaluated critically without ample study of Black history."

JT: Then Susan Rice got a nose job to look like a white woman's nose and had her hair straightened to resemble a white woman's hair. Then she married a white man, ABC news producer Ian Officer Cameron just as a white women would have done. Now that is really being aggressively proud of one's interpretation of reality heritage.

To back up her concern for her heritage, according to FreeBeacon.com reports, “The portfolio of embattled United Nations Ambassador Susan Rice includes investments of hundreds of thousands of dollars in several energy companies known for doing business with Iran, according to financial disclosure forms. ... Rice has the highest net worth of executive branch members, with a fortune estimated between $24 to $44 million, according to the Center for Responsive Politics. A Free Beacon analysis of Rice’s portfolio shows thousands of dollars invested in at least three separate companies cited by lawmakers on Capitol Hill for doing business in Iran’s oil and gas sector.” (<http://freebeacon.com/susan-rices-enrichment-program/>). To me this means that Obama is going to tax her out of existence! Well, maybe not! He can be bought off!!!

JT. Well, Well, Well! I voted for Mitt Romney. I would have voted for Richard Nixon if he could have defeated Obama. However, no one can defeat Obama because Obama is a thug and traitor. Everyone knows this except the judges, the wishy-washy Republicans, the POLDS, and the American illiterates who re-elected him. Now that Romney has met with the thug and "advised" him on how to create jobs, does this make Romney an accessory to treason?

JT: We all know that Obama wants no budget cuts. He wants more deficit. The reason is that he has to pay for Michelle's travels somehow! The sentence is true. At the same time I emphasize that it is about time the Republicans get a spine and let the Democrats and Obama own the deficit.

JT: Reid, Biden, Pelosi, Obama: "We didn't know that. What we do know is that money comes from a money printing machine."

According to <http://www.thegatewaypundit.com/2012/12/morsi-supporters-hold-massive-rally-in-cairo-attack-anti-morsi-protesters-with-rocks/>, "One anti-Morsi protestor in Cairo Egypt correctly states 'Obama is supporting a terrorist.'"

JT: Well, the protestor a little off target. He should have said, "Obama the terrorist is supporting a terrorist."

In the November issue of The Obama Timeline, Don Fredrick reports that "the Asian summit leads to an announcement of a 15-member "Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership"—that excludes the United States. Asia Times later reports that Obama "attended the summit to sell a US-based Trans-Pacific Partnership excluding China. He didn't. The American led-partnership became a party to which no-one came. Instead, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, plus China, India, Japan, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand, will form a club and leave out the United States. As 3 billion Asians become prosperous, interest fades in the prospective contribution of 300 million Americans—especially when those Americans decline to take risks on new technologies. America's great economic strength, namely its capacity to innovate, exists mainly in memory four years after the 2008 economic crisis." The Times also observes, "It is symptomatic of the national condition of the United States that the worst humiliation ever suffered by it as a nation, and by [Obama], passed almost without comment..."

JT: Methinks the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, plus China, India, Japan, South Korea, Australia and New Zealand, are taking the correct position vis-à-vis Obama's America. They have seen through the non-transparency of Obama and have decided not to do any constructive relations with a thug, criminal, and fraud. In the end Obama would take them down the drain of destruction just like he has done in the United States of America.

At <http://www.jihadwatch.org/2012/12/obama-administration-refuses-to-criticize-egypts-anti-free-speech-anti-womens-rights-constitution-bu.html>, we read that the "US doesn't criticize Egypt's draft constitution," by Bradley Klapper for the Associated Press, November 30:

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Obama administration is declining to criticize Egypt's draft constitution despite spirited internal debate over whether the document adequately protects women, religious minorities and dissenting voices.

State Department spokeswoman Victoria Nuland lamented the lack of consensus in Egypt's constitution-writing process. She says how people in Egypt view the draft is most important.

If Egypt's President Mohammed Morsi approves the constitution, it goes to a national referendum.

Nuland's restraint didn't reflect the views of all in the administration.

U.S. officials said there were internal debates over whether to criticize the draft constitution for limiting freedom of expression, failing to grant freedom of worship, criminalizing blasphemy and eroding women's rights guarantees....

"New Israeli Settlements Set Back Peace, Clinton Says," by Scott Stearns for the Voice of America, December 1:

WASHINGTON — U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton says Israeli plans for new settlements near East Jerusalem do not help efforts to bring about a two-state solution to the Palestinian crisis.

Clinton told Israeli officials in Washington that plans for new settlements abutting East Jerusalem "set back the cause of a negotiated peace."

"We all need to work together to find a path forward in negotiations that can finally deliver on a two-state solution. That must remain our goal," Clinton said....

JT: Obama was overheard saying: "Yeah! Don't ever criticize my Muslim Brotherhood colleague More Ham Head Morsi. He is a freedom-loving democrat like me! And Hillallahry Clinton is also right. The West Bank, must be Judenrein! The Palestinians are Allah-Hubal's evil choice!" I know this because I am the world's savior. Allah hop! Allah hop!! Allah Hop!!!

Refer to the above item and read the following collated material by Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline. (His correct opinions are in parentheses.)

"Secretary of State Hillary Clinton addressses the leftist Saban Forum on U.S.-Israel Relations. She states, 'So, look, I'm not making excuses for the missed opportunities of the Israelis, or the lack of generosity, the lack of empathy that I think goes hand-in-hand with the suspicion. So, yes, there is more that the Israelis need to do to really demonstrate that they do understand the pain of an oppressed people in their minds, and they want to figure out, within the bounds of security and a Jewish democratic state, what can be accomplished.' (Clinton stops short of saying that European Jews should have showed generosity and empathy toward the Nazis.) At Breitbart.com Ben Shapiro comments, 'Israel has handed over broad swaths of territory to the "dispossessed" Palestinians (a huge percentage of whom are Egyptian, Syrian, and Jordanian, or the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of those who left Israel in 1948 and were purposefully not absorbed by the Arab world). Israel has legitimized terrorists like Yassar (sic) Arafat in a desperate attempt to broker peace. Israel has sacrificed its own security for twenty years attempting to come to some sort of solution. Israel has accepted the threat of rockets hitting its major cities. Israel has done the job of the anti-Semitic Palestinians by forcibly removing Jews from their homes in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank, making those territories Judenrein. There is no occupation of the Gaza Strip – and it is now the dominion of Hamas. Israel has propped up the Palestinian Authority with weapons and cash and supplies – only to see the Palestinian Authority continue to back terrorism and indoctrination of children in anti-Semitism. Clinton's language couldn't be any more insulting. She endorses the cycle of violence nonsense that endangers the very existence of the Jewish State, and the only democratic and free state anywhere in the region. ...But this is how the Democratic Party now sees the Israel-Arab conflict. It's Israel's fault, even when the rockets rain down on Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. If only Israel would give a little more—a little more Jewish blood—then the Arabs would finally learn to love them.' Pamela Geller writes, 'Hillary is demanding that Jews empathize with their annihilationists. Hillary wants Jews to "be generous" with those obsessed with their extermination and the elimination of the tiny Jewish state. We have long known about Hillary's obsession with the treacherous infiltrator Huma Abedin. Their closerthanthis relationship has been the talk of the downtown NYC gay scene for years... It's time Hillary came up for air. She is embarrassing herself. It's no longer just clouding her judgment, it's making for sick, with dangerous demands..."

JT: This is how Frau Hillallahry Hitler views the situation. Well, well, well. You can't expect anything else from this POLD who considers Saul Alinsky to be the philosophical answer to the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution for the United States of America. I agree with the prediction of the Roman comedy playwright Publius Terentius Afer (c. 190-158 B), who wrote. She was never really charming till she died.

From <http://www.guardian.co.uk/world/fiscal-cliff-blog/2012/dec/05/fiscal-cliff-obama-boehner-live>. we read that House Speaker John Boehner (R-OH) tells reporters, "We need a response from the White House. We can't sit here and negotiate [a budget deal] with ourselves. ...If [Obama] doesn't agree with our proposal and our outline, I think he's got an obligation to send one to the Congress."

JT: Is it possible that Boehner is on some type of Obama payroll? Just Thinking! The statement that Boehner made is very very politically correct. It makes me puke! Better would have been. "We need a response from the White House, whether it is from the usurper Obama or his advising witch and Jew-hater Valerie Jarrett. We can sit here and negotiate [a budget deal] with ourselves. It would be much better than anything coming from the dictator and the Rindviehmale ...If [Obama] doesn't agree with our proposal and our outline, he should relieve himself from his usurped obligations and go back to Kenya and take Witch Jarrett with him. He can drop Michelle at a McDonalds' along the way." (Rindviehmale is pronounced Ri:ndfemale. It is a word play with the German word for cattle Rindvieh.). Here's an image that tells it all:

JT. Michelle's not here. Where can I lift my hind leg?

JT: This is worth posting in its entirety. Here it is from <http://www.judicialwatch.org/press-room/press-releases/judicial-watch-releases-records-detailing-government-funds-expended-on-first-daughter-malia-obamas-spring-break-trip-to-mexico/>.

(Washington, DC) – Judicial Watch today released records detailing the government funds expended on First Daughter Malia Obama’s March 2012 Spring Break vacation to Mexico. According to the records, obtained from the U.S. Secret Service as a result of a Judicial Watch Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) lawsuit filed on September 20, 2012, the total cost of the trip amounted to $115,500.87 (Judicial Watch v. U.S. Secret Service \(No. 12-cv-01562\)).

The following is a breakdown of the costs as detailed in the documents:

Ground transportation: $23,964.81

Lodging: $21,682.92

Airfare: $47,767.34

“Vouchers”: $21,636.14 (not itemized)

Support Charges: $449.66 (travel for one from Mexico City to Oaxaca, not itemized)

Malia Obama’s spring break trip evoked controversy after the Obama White House reportedly ordered the removal of press reports detailing the trip. On March 19, 2012, numerous online press outlets reported that the president’s 13-year-old daughter, Malia Obama, was on a Spring Break trip to Mexico accompanied by 25 U.S. Secret Service Agents and as many as 12 of her friends. However, shortly after the press reports surfaced they were quickly removed from the Internet. The trip took place shortly after the Texas Department of Public Safety issued a statement advising students on Spring Break “to avoid Mexico.”

As reported by Politico:

The AFP, the Huffington Post and other websites have scrubbed a report about first daughter Malia Obama’s school trip. On Monday, the AFP reported that Obama’s daughter was on a school trip along with a number of friends and 25 Secret Service agents. The story was picked up by Yahoo, the Huffington Post, and the International Business Times, as well as UK publications like the Daily Mail and the Telegraph and other overseas publications like The Australian. But on Monday night, the story had been removed from those sites.

In an update to this story, Politico published a statement issued by Kristina Schake, Communications Director to the First Lady, indicating that the removal of these news stories was “a White House effort:”

“From the beginning of the administration, the White House has asked news outlets not to report on or photograph the Obama children when they are not with their parents and there is no vital news interest. We have reminded outlets of this request in order to protect the privacy and security of these girls,” stated Ms. Schake.

“In these economic times, with huge public debt and high unemployment, spending $115,000 in taxpayer funds on a Spring Break trip to Mexico is inappropriate. Is this what Americans are being asked to pay higher taxes for?” stated Judicial Watch President Tom Fitton.

Judicial Watch has been active in documenting the cost to taxpayers for the Obama's' personal trips. For example, Judicial previously obtained records from the United States Air Force and the United States Secret Service detailing Michelle Obama's February 2012 President's Day weekend ski vacation to Aspen, Colorado, with her two daughters. The records indicate U.S. Secret Service costs, including accommodations at the Fasching Haus deluxe condominium and the Inn at Aspen, were $48,950.38.

Judicial Watch also obtained documents from the United States Air Force and the United States Secret Service detailing costs associated with Michelle Obama's controversial August 2010 vacation to Spain. According to a Judicial Watch analysis, the records indicate a total combined cost of at least $467,585.

Judicial Watch also obtained documents detailing costs a June 21-27, 2011, trip taken by Michelle Obama, her family and her staff to South Africa and Botswana. Judicial Watch received mission expense records and passenger manifests for the Africa trip that described costs of $424,142 for the flight and crew alone. Other expenses, such as off-flight food, transportation, security, etc. were not included.

JT: Malia was born on July 4, 1998. She is now 14 years old. This is the accepted adult age of females that is observed by Islam. Coming from an Islamic background, this means that she can be held responsible for what she does. She is no longer a child. Now for my two cents.

Penny1: I'll bet that today Malia cannot tell in fluid English where she went, why she went, and who paid for it.

Penny2: I'll bet Malia cannot tell you what her name means in Spanish. I can: Bitter! It is so appropriate. Nothing but bitterness and maliciousness come from the Obamas!

On December 8 attorney Orly Taitz reports that documents she sent to the Supreme Court in her Obama eligibility case Taitz v. Astrue were never recorded as officially received, despite the signed receipt she received from FedEx.

JT: Now why would Obama want to record the documents as being officially received?
