JUST THINKING

Number 44

JT: We American Patriots should propagandize that the President's words at the prayer vigil in Newtown, Connecticut on December 16, 2012 have real meaning and should be the standard by which Americans should respect life.

"This is our first task, caring for our children. It's our first job. If we don't get that right, we don't get anything right. That's how, as a society, we will be judged." Barack Obama, December 16 at Newtown, CT prayer vigil.

The usurper president's words are so meaningful, they must be repeated:

"This is our first task, caring for our children. It's our first job. If we don't get that right, we don't get anything right. That's how, as a society, we will be judged." Barack Obama, December 16 at Newtown, CT prayer vigil.

Speaker of the House of Representatives John Boehner says, "Frankly, I'm convinced that [Obama] is unwilling to stand up to his own party on the big issues that face our country."

JT: Wow! That's an understatement!

Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline reports that K. T. McFarland, at FoxNews.com opinions, "The events of September 11 are a symptom of a much larger problem—the Obama administration's entire Middle East policy has failed."

JT: I don't think that Mrs. McFarland is seeing the forest because his tree is in the way. Obama's policy in the Middle East has succeeded. Gadaffi in Libya, Mubarak in Egypt, Bashar al-Assad in Syria, who kept the expansion of al Qaeda and the Muslim Brotherhood in check in the respective countries, were deposed of their power, or in the case of Bashar al-Assad is being deposed of power. When the Muslim Brotherhood gains power in Syria, which is their goal, Israel will be surrounded on three sides. The Muslim Brotherhood in Libya will be able to expand unchecked in North Africa. The good Muslim that he is, Barack Hussein Obama will have been successful in expanding Muslim Brotherhood Islam and will have been successful in cordoning off Israel.

Mr. McFarland continues, "We helped Libyan rebels topple their dictator, yet their new government is has failed to consolidate control. They are cowed by Al Qaeda affiliated militias and couldn't—or wouldn't—prevent the Benghazi attack and assassinations of our diplomats. Syria's vicious civil war threatens to go from horrific to hellish as Al Qaeda sympathizers and Islamic extremists take over the rebel cause, chemical weapons go missing, and the ethno-sectarian violence spills over to infect Syria's neighbors and threaten our NATO ally Turkey. Iran is on the cusp of becoming a nuclear power and the dominant power in the region. Any hopes that a post-Saddam Iraq would be a pro-American ally have vanished as Iraq falls increasingly into the Iranian orbit. We will end up fighting our way out of Afghanistan, as it descends into multiparty civil war once the last American soldier takes the last helicopter out. At best, countries will be governed by the anti-American Muslim Brotherhood. At worst, chaos will ensue. Political and economic chaos are waiting in the wings, and radical Islamists, terrorists and Al Qaeda expand their influence throughout the region. ... we are losing the Middle East to radical extremists and opening the door to more attacks against Americans. ...Obama's lead-from-behind policy may be the opposite of President Bush's lead-from-the-front, but it, too, has been inadequate to the job. President Bush invaded countries and toppled dictators, and swept away the entire administrative and governing structures of Afghanistan and Iraq . He replaced them with American protectorates, handpicked new leaders and imposed his Freedom Agenda on countries unable or unwilling to accept it as their own. A decade later ...Obama embarked on his own Freedom Agenda by helping topple dictators in Egypt and Libya, but rather than offer a helping hand to transition to stability and self government, stood aside. As a result, the hopes of the Arab spring are one after another being smothered by Islamic extremists and the Muslim Brotherhood to create a despondency of the Arab Winter. ...The Benghazi Report calls for beefed up security and new rules of engagement, but as yet we have failed to punish those responsible, although we know who they are and where they live. Should anyone be surprised if in 2013 we see more attacks on Americans and on American soil?"

Methinks that is a description of Obama's successes.

On December 21 the White House announces that Obama will nominate Senator John Kerry (D-MA) to replace Hillary Clinton as Secretary of State.

JT: So much for honesty, uprightness, and responsibility in US foreign policy. I wonder if John Kerry has a few medals already conceived to award himself for his service as Secretary of State. Hey, didn't Senator John Kerry take an oath of office to uphold the Constitution for the United States of America? And he is willing to serve under usurper Obama? I get it! His real name is John I-don't-carry-any-concern-for-the Constitution! Yet, we must concede that John Kerry being the next

Secretary of State shows continuity in Barack Hussein Obama's foreign policy. The traitor in chief had traitor Hillallahry Clinton as his Secretary of State and now he has traitor John Kerry as his Secretary of State. This proves that evil traitor birds with evil traitor feathers flock evilly and traitorally together. Below is a picture of Usurper Barack Hussein Obama with his future traitor Secretary Stallion of State.

What's important is what comes out at the rear.

WND.com reports that Leon County, Florida, Judge Kevin C. Carroll dismisses the eligibility challenge lawsuit Michael C. Voeltz v. Barack Hussein Obama. Read it at <http://www.wnd.com/2012/12/eligibility-judge-quotes-famous-santa-case/>.

JT: Didn't the judge take an oath to uphold the Constitution for the United States of America? Perhaps he took a personal oath to make sure that he would do everything possible to achieve economic security for himself and his family. Now there is nothing wrong with that, is there? The judge's logic is interesting. He says. "This court notes that ...Obama lives in the White House. He flies on Air Force One. He has appeared before Congress, delivered State of the Union addresses and meets with congressional leaders on a regular basis. He has appointed countless ambassadors to represent the interests of the United States throughout the world. As this matter has come before the court at this time of the year it seems only appropriate to paraphrase the ruling rendered by the fictional Judge Henry X. Harper from New York in open court in the classic holiday film 'Miracle on 34th St.' 'Since the United States Government declares this man to be president, this court will not dispute it. Case dismissed."

JT's opinion is that the same argument could apply to Bo the Dog! (The real name is Borack the Dog!) Borack the Dog lives in the White House. Borack the Dog flies on Air Force One. Borack the Dog delivers State of the Dogfood Addresses and cries Borack-the-Dog artificial, fake tears. Borack the Dog barks his approval of countless ambassadors and approves the illegal killings of numerous, innocent victims. Borack the Dog is a kind of representative of its view of United States interests, particularly concerning the world's dogs, which by the way, are hated by Muslims because Mohammed was scared of dogs, but loved stones and stoning. Furthermore, since the United States government declares that Borack the Dog is the presidential dog, the Borack the Dog is equivalent to being president. Lift your hind leg Borack the Dog, the left hind leg! Borack the Dog, you have won another Borack-the-Dog fight. Send the judge a year's supply of Borack-the-Dog economic support.

The Obama Timeline reports that "Senator Kelly Ayotte (R-NH) tells Fox News she has doubts about Obama's possible nominee for Secretary of defense, former Senator Chuck Hagel: 'I do have serious concerns about his positions that he's stated on Israel, some of the statements he has made in the past, as well as his positions on Iran. If he is nominated and comes before the Senate Armed Services Committee, I plan to vigorously question him on his prior statements, and those positions, in particular.'"

TOL: My goodness! I hope Senator Kelly Ayotte (R-NH) chokes on her political correctness! This is JT's curse on all these types of Republicans. Why can't she say?: I adamantly oppose Chuck Hagel's nomination as Secretary of Defense because in the past he has made statements detrimental to the foreign policy of the United States of America and he does not represent upright, ethical, and moral positions regarding America's only democratic and freedom-loving ally in the Middle East: Israel.

Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline has this summary of the funeral service of deceased Senator Daniel Inouye (D-HI). "At the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C., the arrogant Obama uses the funeral of Senator Daniel Inouye (D-HI) to talk about—Obama. He uses the word 'I' 30 times; "my" 21 times; and 'me' 12 times. Obama notes, 'Danny was elected to the U.S. Senate when I was two years old.' Obama says, 'Now, even though my mother and grandparents took great pride that they had voted for him [sic], I confess that I wasn't paying much attention to the United States Senate at the age of four or five or six. It wasn't until I was 11 years old that I recall even learning what a U.S. senator was, or it registering, at least. It was during my summer vacation with my family—my first trip to what those of us in Hawaii call the mainland. So we flew over the ocean, and with my mother and my grandmother and my sister, who at the time was two, we traveled around the country. It was a big trip. We went to Seattle, and we went to Disneyland—which was most important. We traveled to Kansas where my grandmother's family was from, and went to Chicago, and went to Yellowstone. And we took Greyhound buses most of the time, and we rented cars, and we would stay at local motels or Howard Johnsons. And if there was a pool at one of these motels, even if it was just tiny, I would be very excited. And the ice machine was exciting—and the vending machine, I was really excited about that.'"

JT: Well, well, well. I thought it was a funeral service for Senator Daniel Inouye (D-HI). After Obama's praise of himself, Senator Inouye probably rolled over in his casket and thought: I wish I had become a Republican.

Flew to the mainland and stayed in Howard Johnson Motels? Baby Boy Barry was in Seattle? I thought Barry the Liar was a poor boy from Indonesia who had been born in Kenya, or Canada, or wherever. Baby Boy Barry got excited about pools, ice machines, vending machines? Those are inventions of capitalism. Well, maybe Muslims invented them! Baby Boy Barry getting excited about these items tells me that he was psychologically disturbed. Relating this excitement when he was Baby Boy Barry with exciting phrases during a funeral oration indicates to me that Baby Boy Barry is still psychologically disturbed.

Obama and his family fly to Hawaii for a holiday vacation.

JT: Did Hawaii give them foreign tourist entry visas?

<http://www.noquarterusa.net/blog/74754/formal-reprimand-issued-to-flatulent-federal-worker/> "Man's gas blamed for creating 'intolerable' workplace."

JT: It is interesting that this never happens to Obama or his Chicago thug-goons who flatulate orally all of the time.

<http://www.breitbart.com/Big-Government/2012/12/21/House-Republican-members-circulate-plan-to-oust-Speaker:>

"House Republicans Circulate Plan to Oust Boehner from Speakership Several conservative House Republican members are contemplating a plan to unseat Speaker John Boehner from his position on January 3, Breitbart News has exclusively learned. Staffers have compiled a detailed action plan that, if executed, could make this a reality."

JT: This is great news. Another true Democrat might bite the dust.

<http://abcnews.go.com/US/wireStory/iowa-court-bosses-fire-irresistible-workers-18038838#.UNbHxnf0-VF> reports that an Iowa Court rules: "Bosses Can Fire 'Irresistible' Workers"

JT: What a relief! Moosechellallah doesn't have to worry. She is neither irresistible nor does she work.

Source: <http://sadhillnews.com/2012/12/20/obama-kills-not-a-tear-was-shed-not-even-a-fake-one>.

Sad Hill explains for POLDS: Do the math. An abortion in the US every 26 seconds. That's 3,300 executions per day, or roughly 1.2 million murders per year. Multiply that by 8 (2 terms = 8 years), then factor in the rapidly increasing abortion rate (4,000+/day):

Obama 11,000,000 vs. Hitler 6,000,000

Keep in mind abortions skyrocketed between 2011 and 2012: HERE

And Conservatives say, 'Obama hasn't accomplished anything'...

The official U.S. Holocaust tally from American Life League that does not include chemical abortions* nor those killed by Obama's countless drone strikes:

- Total number of abortions in the U.S. 1973-2011: 54.5 million+
- 234 abortions per 1,000 live births (according to the Centers for Disease Control)
- Abortions per hour: 137
- 9 abortions every 4 minutes

*These statistics include only surgical and medical abortions. Because many contraceptive measures are abortifacients (drugs that induce or cause abortions), it is important not to overlook the number of children killed by chemical abortions. Since 1965, an average of 11 million women have used abortifacient methods of birth control in the United States at any given time. Using formulas based on the way the birth control pill works, pharmacy experts project that about 14 million chemical abortions occur in the United States each year, providing a projected total of well in excess of 610 million chemical abortions between 1965 and 2009.
