On January 25, 2013, hundreds of thousands of anti-abortion demonstrators attend the annual "March for Life" in Washington, D.C., 40 years after the Supreme Court's decision in Roe v. Wade led to 55 million abortions.

We believe

LIFE HAS TO BEGIN AT CONCEPTION

If life doesn't count until a human is no longer dependent on others to survive, then it never begins for liberals.

At The Obama Timeline we read:

On January 21 an explosion allegedly destroys much of Iran's Fordow nuclear facility. (The incident is reported on January 24 by WND.com, whose source is "a former intelligence officer of the Islamic regime." The site is "...buried deep under a mountain and immune not only to air strikes but to most bunker-buster bombs. ...The regime believes the blast was sabotage and the explosives could have reached the area disguised as equipment or in the uranium hexafluoride stock transferred to the site, the source said. The explosion occurred at the third centrifuge chambers, with the high-grade enriched uranium reserves below them. The information was passed on to U.S. officials but has not been verified or denied by the regime or other sources within the regime.") As many as 16 North Korean technicians and military officers may have been trapped along with Iranians. The White House refuses to confirm that there was an incident at the facility, even though it has also been reported by The Times of London and Germany's Die Welt. White House press secretary Jay Carney tells reporters, "We don't believe those are credible reports. We have no information that would confirm them and do not believe that those reports or that report is credible."

JT: The enemedia has not reported this. How can they report on something that they have always contended to be non-existent?

<http://www.newrepublic.com/article/112190/obama-interview-2013-sit-down-president>

Not only does Obama hate guns, he hates football, also. Obama tells The New Republic, "I'm a big football fan, but I have to tell you if I had a son, I'd have to think long and hard before I let him play football. And I think that those of us who love the sport are going to have to wrestle with the fact that it will probably change gradually to try to reduce some of the violence. In some cases, that may make it a little bit less exciting, but it will be a whole lot better for the players, and those of us who are fans maybe won't have to examine our consciences quite as much. I tend to be more worried about college players than NFL players in the sense that the NFL players have a union, they're grown men, they can make some of these decisions on their own, and most of them are well-compensated for the violence they do to their bodies. You read some of these stories about college players who undergo some of these same problems with concussions and so forth and then have nothing to fall back on. That's something that I'd like to see the NCAA think about."

JT: I think Barack Hussein Obama should be spiked!

<http://www.maggiesnotebook.com/2013/01/aliens-get-healthcare-citizens-do-not-a-quirk-unintended-consequences-no-its-the-obama-agenda-impeach-john-roberts>

JT: Of course, aliens are more important than American citizens. Obama says so and he should know! He is an alien. As for John Roberts. He's an alien from another world!

http://atlasshrugs2000.typepad.com/atlas_shrugs/2013/01/muslims-desecrate-ransack-urinate-in-and-almost-burnt-to-the-ground-josephs-tomb.html

JT: Obama says it's a great religion! Respect it!

Senator Diane Feinstein's gun law proposal bans "any semiautomatic firearm with uses a magazine—handgun, rifle or shotgun—equipped with a 'pistol grip.'" The legislation also defines a pistol grip as "a grip, a thumb-hole stock, or any other characteristic that can function as a grip." The legislation therefore essentially bans almost all widely-used guns.

JT: I have a thumb-hole grip on my trumpet. It is the tube for the first valve. I also have a trumpet with a trigger on the first and third valve tubes. My goodness, I have two weapons! Perhaps I should register them as a weapon. (I hope you're not thinking what I think you're thinking! I'm way past the beginning stage!)

JT: I grew up in a rural farming area. I know on what kind of piles flies land!

The Washington Free Beacon (WFB) reports that the head of Central Command, Marine Corps Gen. James Mattis is being dismissed by Obama and will leave his post in March. The WFB article states: 'Word on the national security street is that General James Mattis is being given the bum's rush out of his job as commander of Central Command, and is being told to vacate his office several months earlier than planned.' Did Gen. Mattis refuse to "fire on U.S. citizens?" (From Don Fredrick: "The Obama Timeline is unable to confirm the claim, but after five years of researching Obama's past finds it entirely within the realm of possibility. Mattis is an intelligent, independent minded general who speaks his mind—traits the Obama administration may not want in its military leaders. Mattis was not even given the courtesy of a phone call from the Pentagon or the White House. According to ForeignPolicy.com, he was handed a note telling him he had been relieved of his command.)

JT: Obama is conducting the same policy that Hitler executed: He's getting rid of generals who are capable of thinking and giving him resistance. Whether or not any of them will commit suicide, or Obama-induced suicide, remains to be seen.

Fox News senior political analyst Brit Hume suggests that although Hillary Clinton can perhaps be called "competent" her limited achievements "...do not add up to a case for greatness... You look across the world, now at the major issues. Are Arabs and Israelis closer to peace? How about Iran and North Korea and their nuclear programs? Have they been halted or seriously set back? Has the 'reset' with Russia, which she so famously introduced with the photo-op in Moscow with the reset button, led to a new and more cooperative relationship? Is there a Clinton doctrine that we can identify that she has articulated and formed as secretary of state? Are there major treaties that she has undertaken and negotiated through to a successful conclusion? I think the answer to all those questions is that she has not. And those are the kinds of things that might mark her as a great secretary of state. She has certainly been industrious. She has visited 112 countries. Her conduct as secretary of state has been highly dignified. She does her homework. There have been no gaffes or blunders. So I think she has been a capable and hard working secretary of state, but I think the case for her being a great secretary of state is exceedingly weak." (From Don Fredrick at The Obama timeline: "Most Americans would have difficulty pointing out any significant foreign policy successes by Hillary Clinton. They could, however, point to the Benghazi terrorist attack and the cover-up afterward as a colossal failure on her part.)

JT: I think that Hilllallahry Clinton does have one foreign policy that she can call her own success: Her lover Huma Abedin at the State Department. Oh, I'm sorry. They're just good friends, Muslim Sisterhood friends!

WesternJournalism.com posts a Carl Gallups' interview with Mike Zullo, lead investigator in Sheriff Joe Arpaio's continuing investigation of Obama's forged birth certificate. Zullo states, "I'm going into my seventeenth month now of working on this full time. This investigation has never stopped. The only thing that stopped is the media coverage around the investigation. ...You have that level of 'probable cause.' I am gonna put my reputation out there that we have evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, a higher standard, beyond a reasonable doubt that this document [Obama's birth certificate] is an utter forgery. ...I'm telling you, the evidence that we have acquired, newfound evidence that we have never made public... will convince even the greatest skeptics that this document is 100 percent a forgery. And if you want to get to the truth it starts with this document."

JT: Somehow I don't think that Barack Hussein Obama will accept this truth!

<http://townhall.com/news/politics-elections/2013/01/26/white-house-senators-launching-immigration-push-n1498368> reports that Obama "will launch a campaign next week aimed at overhauling the nation's flawed immigration system and creating legal status for millions, as a bipartisan Senate group nears agreement on achieving the same goals. The proposals from Obama and lawmakers will mark the start of what is expected to be a contentious and emotional process with deep political implications. Latino voters overwhelmingly backed Obama in the 2012 election, leaving Republicans grappling for a way to regain their standing with an increasingly powerful pool of voters. ...[Obama] is expected to revive his little-noticed 2011 immigration 'blueprint,' which calls for a pathway to citizenship for illegal immigrants that includes paying fines and back taxes; increased border security; mandatory penalties for businesses that employ unauthorized immigrants; and improvements to the legal immigration system, including giving green cards to high-skilled workers and lifting caps on legal immigration for the immediate family members of U.S. citizens.”

JT: Wouldn't this necessitate the investigation of illegal immigrants' use of illegal/stolen/misappropriated social security numbers? This could be a problem for Obama because he is an illegal immigrant using a number of stolen social security numbers.

The Washington Post reports that the Obama administration may have difficulty finding 15 people willing to serve on the Independent Payment Advisory Board (Obamacare's' death panel"). Peter Orszag, a former director of the Office of Budget and Management under Obama and a chief supporter of the IPAB, states, "It is supposed to be 15 members, with limited salaries who can't do any outside work. It will be challenging to find top 15 health-care experts are who would want that job." Bob Kocher, a former Obama health policy adviser, says, "You're joining an organization that has uncertain authority with the certainty of being deeply political and widely criticized. It doesn't make sense for current thought leaders in American health care to want this." At The-New-American-Interest.com, Walter Russell Mead writes, "It isn't hard to see why nobody is clamoring to take a job that offers low pay and lots of regulations and will make everyone in the country hate you. ...If you go for the job, though, try not to dwell on how impossible and unpopular and low-paying your work will be. Instead, think about the fact that you'll be able to tell your grandkids that you were one of the first death panelists." <http://www.washingtonpost.com/blogs/wonkblog/wp/2013/01/28/who-wants-to-sit-in-the-hot-seat-on-a-federal-health-care-panel/>

JT: I'll do it! I'll do it! I'll do it! I'll do it for nothing. My first act would be to arrest Obama. My second act would be to call the board and ObamaCare illegal because the ObamaCare law was signed by an imposter and traitor. My third act would be to tell the enemedia to get their heads out of Obama! My fourth act would be to send everybody home.

CNSNews.com reports at <http://cnsnews.com/news/article/irs-cheapest-obamacare-plan-will-be-20000-family>: "In a final regulation issued Wednesday [January 30], the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) assumed that under Obamacare (sic) the cheapest health insurance plan available in 2016 for a family will cost $20,000 for the year. Under Obamacare, Americans will be required to buy health insurance or pay a penalty to the IRS. The IRS's assumption that the cheapest plan for family will cost $20,000 per year is found in examples the IRS gives to help people understand how to calculate the penalty they will need to pay the government if they do not buy a mandated health plan. The examples point to families of four and families of five, both of which the IRS expects in its assumptions to pay a minimum of $20,000 per year for a bronze plan. 'The annual national average bronze plan premium for a family of 5 (2 adults, 3 children) is $20,000,' the regulation says. Bronze will be the lowest tier health-insurance plan available under Obamacare—after Silver, Gold, and Platinum. Under the law, the penalty for not buying health insurance is supposed to be capped at either the annual average Bronze premium, 2.5 percent of taxable income, or $2,085.00 per family in 2016.”

JT: Take my advice American families. Don't purchase any Gold, Silver, or Bronze plans. Instead every American family, except for the POLDS, ought to file a law suit against Obama arguing that it is a criminal act to purchase something from a criminal. His signature on the ObamaCare legislative bill is illegal because he is an illegal president. Even though fall-over Chief Justice says that ObamaCare is constitutional in a portion of its content. The constitutional question should be: Is an illegal signature on a legislative bill signed by an illegal president constitutional? If I sign my Credit Card with Moby Dick, I am committing fraud against the credit card company. Yet, because no one knows Barack Hussein Obama's true identity and birthplace, Obama's signature on government documents is not fraud? I'm a logical person and no court can convince me that Obama's illegality is legal!

We are not using border security as an excuse or block to path of citizenship.

JT: (I don't doubt that Senator Schumer said this. He did say it and it is crappy English. Well, from a crappy politician comes crap!

JT Now I know why Obama can't shoot straight with the truth. He's all marx'd up!

JT: JT has inside, silver-lined information that this is Hillallahry Clinton's new Muslim Sisterhood formal evening dress. The informal attire is black tape. When sh's on a commie trip, its red tape!

JT: JT has learned that Barack Hussein Obama doesn't only "do skeet shooting". (I know, it is called shooting skeet. I'm only quoting the one and only message! Don't arrest me, and try me, and convict me and hang me for treason for just quoting the One's statement!) Well, before I'm arrested JT has a scoop photo of Barack Hussein Obama attempting to get eight with one shot! He's doing pretty good killing them in Afghanistan so he thinks he try it himself in Washington!

JT. JT has inside information that the traitor feels that his Rules of Enemy Engagement are not killing enough American soldiers in Afghanistan. The traitor has decided to slowly starve them to death! That's worse than water boarding where the subject gets to live.

At <http://sultanknish.blogspot.de/2013/02/friday-afternoon-roundup-another-time.html> we read:

ANOTHER TIME, WE'LL GO TO MARS

Apparently the last Mars mission determined once and for all that there are no Muslims on Mars making further visits there unnecessary. Also deeply disappointing to Obama was that despite its name of the "Red Planet", what looked like a giant image of Marx's head, turned out to just be a volcanic formation. We could have paid for the entire Mars mission with the money that Obama gave to the Muslim Brotherhood regime in Egypt. But Obama has his priorities.

JT: Islam will probably claim that it invented Mars. Read:

JT: I have some questions concerning these statements:

1. Do Barack Hussein Obama and Joe Biden deserve to be defended?
2. Do some of our POLDS Congressmen deserve to be defended?
3. Do some of our POLDS governors deserve to be defended?
4. Do some of our POLDS celebrities deserve to be defended?
5. Do some of our POLDS judges deserve to be defended?

Just thinking and just asking!

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2013/02/03/john-kerry-secretary-of-state_n_2611444.html.

JT: It's the HuffingPo. In English huffing means in a fit of anger and po means one's behind. Does this mean that Huffing's Po is in a fit of anger or that Huffing is in a fit of anger over her Po? Nevertheless, the link is about John Kerry's first action as Secretary of State. Kerry was an alleged agent of North Vietnam. He was nominated by a person who calls himself Barack Hussein Obama. Now that's change with two dopes. JT does not know if Kerry called Hanoi to thank them for their support!
