JUST THINKING

Number 51

An important and a serious question, “Does Allah of Islam, allow Muslims in the Quran, to eat human flesh?”

The answer is very clearly, “Yes”.

Now read <http://www.onenewsnow.com/in-depth/2013/02/18/cannibalism-taught-at-islamic-university-in-cairo/>!

JT: The report is delicious. Therefore I'm making a choice cut: the complete meal:

Around the same time President Barack Obama started sending 20 F-16 fighter jets to Egypt's militant Islamic President Mohammed Morsi as part of a $1 billion foreign aid gift package, a report surfaced that the same university where the commander-in-chief spoke -- to support the Muslim Brotherhood -- is teaching that cannibalism practiced on infidels and other non-Muslims is condoned.

Many might still remember that Egypt's Al-Azhar University in Cairo was the location of the president's iconic 2009 speech, "which empowered the Muslim Brotherhood," as noted in a report from Shoebat.com by Walid and Theodore Shoebat, ex-Muslim Brotherhood members-turned-Christian peace activists.

Al-Azhar University is considered the most reputable of all Islamic learning institutions in the world, as well as the main center of Arabic literature.

Chopped on any food channel

Even more disturbing than the inhuman instruction on the college campus, an Egyptian scholar divulged during a recent video interview that this teaching of Al-Azhar University condoning the cannibalization of non-Muslims has made its way into high school curricula.

“We allowed the eating of the flesh of dead humans ... under necessary conditions,” the scholar shared. “It [dead human flesh] must not be cooked or grilled to avoid Haram (wrongdoing) ... and he can kill a murtadd (apostate) and eat him.”

And the source of this Islamic teaching appears to many in the Western world as more of a sadistic cookbook than a textbook.

“The book that is being taught to general high-school students mentions that those who don’t pray can be grilled & then eaten,” the interviewer added.

But does this morbid practice actually come from an authoritative Islamic source? It’s found in the religion’s accepted law.

“One may eat the flesh of a human body,” states Al-Shafie, heralded as the founder of Islamic jurisprudence, in the first volume of his work Al-Kortoby. “It is not allowed to kill a Muslim nor a free non-Muslim under Muslim rule (because he is useful for the society), nor a prisoner because he belongs to other Muslims. But you may kill an enemy fighter or an adulterer and eat his body.”

Bloody celebration?

The Shoebat brothers describe Muhammad and his “minions” as crazed lunatics devouring blood in a “voodoo-like act” in their book For God or For Tyranny.

“Malik ibn Sinan drank his [Muhammad's] blood on the Day of Uhud and licked it up,” their book reads. “The Prophet allowed him to do that and then said, ‘The [Hell] fire will not touch you.’ ...and ‘Abdullah ibn az Zubayr drank his cupped blood.”

Cannibalistic behavior is no stranger to Islam -- the second largest religion in the world with 1.57 million adherents, or almost one in four people on the planet. In fact, the barbaric practice is heavily celebrated.

“When, at the battle of Uhud, the helmet-rings had been taken out of the Prophet’s cheek, blood flowed from the radiant face of that Lord of the pure, and my father Malik Ibn Sinan sucked the wounds with his mouth, swallowing the blood,” states one of the Islamic scriptures in reference to drinking the prophet Mohammed’s blood. “When they said to my father, ‘Malik, is blood to be drunk?’ my father replied, ‘Yes, the blood of the Prophet of God I drink like a beverage.’ At that time his Excellency, the Prophet, said, ‘Whoever wishes to see one who has mixed my blood with his own, let him look at Malik Ibn Sinan: any one whose blood touches mine, him the fire of hell shall not desire.’”

According to the Shoebats, these kind of maniacal practices are rife in the sacred writings held dear to Muslims.

“Bizarre and psychotic narrations like this are too many to quote,” the brothers argue. “They speak of drinking Mohammed’s urine and eating his excrement. Christians would ask, ‘Would such abominations be chosen over the precious blood of the sinless Lamb of God?’ No Bible believer drinks literal blood.”

Muslim mafia and shariah police?

With Al-Azhar University’s endorsement of cannibalism, the Egyptian scholar contended during his interview that it will usher in the justification to form committees known as “Promotion of Virtue & Prevention of Vice,” which is known for its brutal practice of cannibalism. It is also noted that the Islamic mafia in Egypt terrorizing and murdering anyone in the streets that they consider apostates is called Promotion of Virtue and Prevention of Vice Authority -- the same name as Saudi Arabia’s moral police.

This means that things are by no means looking good for Christians and other non-Muslims in the land of the pyramids.

“Egypt’s new constitution already establishes that the nation will be having a Saudi-style Sharia police, which will be implementing not only this sort of violence, but the eating of human flesh,” the Shoebats report. “Morsi’s coming ‘moral’ mafia and mere Egyptian individuals will be given the power to partake in such barbarism.”

And Al-Azhar is expected to play an instrumental role with this transition, as well.

“In fact, the constitution also mandates that any Islamic edict coming from the government must first go through Al-Azhar university scholars,” the ex-Muslim Brotherhood members explain. “This means that the okay for cannibalism will be observed in Egypt.”

A new breed of Egyptian mummies

Since Hosni Mubarak was ousted as president of Egypt during the Muslim Brotherhood-driven “Arab Spring” in 2010, Theodore Shoebat has expressed that the Egyptian people are turning into savage zombies, noting one incident when a butcher murdered his wife and sold her flesh at his shop after stripping it off of her bones.

“Now with Al-Azhar’s blessing, we are going to be seeing more of this type of violence,” Shoebat insisted. “But why is this happening? While many people see Islam as a morally conservative religion, akin to Christianity and Judaism, they don’t understand that Islam is Satanic, and of no different spirit than any other pagan religions.”

This resurgence can be viewed as Egypt revisiting its age-old heritage.

“Egypt is merely going back to its heathen roots,” asserted Shoebat. “In Ancient Egypt, human sacrifice was followed by ritual cannibalism. On the temple of Edifu, all lands foreign to Egypt are pictured as being under the feet of the pharaoh, as four men, their arms bounded, are about to be ritually sacrificed ... This rite was a part of an annual fertility ritual, the depictions of which have netted birds, fish, and mortals, as representing the enemies of the pharaoh -- Asiatics, Beduin, Nubians, and others -- which were to be eaten for ‘breakfast, lunch, and supper.’ By consuming the flesh of their enemies, the Egyptians believed that they would absorb their desired qualities.”

No matter what influences prevailed in the northeast African nation, cannibalism has remained alive and well over the centuries.

“Cannibalism continued on in Egypt even after the Christian Era, and regardless of Islam prevailing over the country, it was still prevalently practiced,” said Shoebat, who converted to Christianity from Islam along with his brother. “In 1148, as Rudwan, a criminal, was fleeing for his freedom from the authorities, he was slain in front of the palace of the Khalifa. His head was cut off, and his body mutilated into little pieces only for them to be eaten by Egyptian soldiers in their infernal belief that they would absorb the courage of the victim.”

He warns that the Christian Copts are the modern-day targets of the morbid heathen practice.

“Cannibalism was practiced throughout the ancient Near East,” Shoebat informed. “In the Christian era, the heathens of pre-Islamic Lebanon seized Cyril, a deacon of Heliopolis who despised heathenism, killed him, tore open his stomach and ate his liver. These pagans did this because Cyril was Christian, and so will we see this being done by the Muslims toward the Copts.”

As the Muslim Brotherhood continues to reign over the country, Shoebat sees no indication that cannibalism in Egypt will abate anytime soon.

“And if one thinks that the Muslim have evolved into a modern mindset, one must remember what took place in Ramallah, in which two Israeli soldiers were beaten and tortured to death, their bodies thrown down a window to the sounds of ‘Allahu Akbar,’ and their flesh then chewed by the crowd,” he added. “Muslims in Ramallah held body parts of Israeli while they cried out, ‘I eat the flesh of my occupier!’”

Non-Muslim Egyptians are warned to brace themselves, as things are expected to only get worse.

“The spirit of cannibalism is alive and well in Egypt,” Shoebat concluded before pointing to the words of an Egyptian cleric who gave a brief snapshot of the carnage in the now-Muslim nation. “This savagery will be taking place in Egypt, but this time at a much wider scale.”

JT: Well, if Barry can eat dogs, what is to stop him and his Muslim Brotherhood from eating non-believers? I suppose that's one way to solve the increasing world population problem as well as the nutrition needs of hungry Muslims.

Hmmm!

Tasty!

Barack Hussein Obama says, "Islam is a great religion, respect it!

At http://mypetjawa.mu.nu/archives/215153.php?utm_source=dlvr.it&utm_medium=twitter we read that Muslims in Sweden are practicing beheadings on cats.

JT: I have more than a handful of suggestions that would qualify for practice, but only one-timers. Now what do you think I have in mind? Read the rest of Just Thinking #51 and you will find some answers on the last page.

At http://righttruth.typepad.com/right_truth/2013/02/secretary-of-state-secretary-of-the-treasury.html we read about reorganizing the federal government.

JT: I've just appointed myself to the position of the newest and best President and Vice-President of the United States of America that ever was and ever will be! So there POLDS! I'm going to throw all of you into Siberia for being treasonous to the USA. Now that I'm President and Vice-President I've been able to reach an agreement with Vladimir Putin, who in his own right has been a president and a sort of vice-president, concerning the most remote place where your kind of rubbish should go. The following list shows my appointees to the newest and best government the United States of America has ever had and will ever have.

Highest Level Federal Positions

Department of State, 1789: Frederick William Dame because I know all of the names and locations of all countries.

Department of Treasury, 1789: Frederick William Dame because I know how to save money.

Department of Defense and Veterans Affairs, 1930: Frederick William Dame because I am a veteran.
Attorney General, 1870: Frederick William Dame because I know Constitutional Law. I would place Homeland Security (2002) under the control of the FBI, which I would head, and I would get rid of all liberals.
Department of Interior, 1849: Get rid of it and let supply and demand take over.
Department of Agriculture, 1862: Get rid of it and let supply and demand take over.
Department of Commerce, 1903: Get rid of it and let supply and demand take over.
Department of Labor, 1913: Get rid of it and the Labor Unions and let supply and demand take over.
Department of Health & Human Services, 1953: Get rid of it. Put the Center for Disease Control in containment.
Department of Housing & Urban Development, 1964 Get rid of it.
Department of Transportation, 1967: Get rid of it.
Department of Energy, 1977: Get rid of it and let supply and demand take over
Department of Education, 1979 Get rid of it and all liberal teaching.
CIA: Frederick William Dame because I have experience in spying.
UN Ambassador: Frederick William Dame. I would then cancel my position and place the United States of America outside the reach of the United Nations.
Department of National Cleansing (I would create this new department):
Frederick William Dame. Get rid of all Muslims in government positions because the oaths they take to Allah-Hubal, Islam, Mohammed, and the Koran supersede all other oaths they take. Therefore, they can never be patriotic Americans.

I would charge all enemedia for treason during 2006-the present.

PS: You can list me as the head of any other government position except First Lady and any body servant!

At <http://politicalvelcraft.org/2013/02/19/update-orly-taitz-noon-case-u-s-supreme-court-denies/> we read that the United States Supreme Court has refused to hear the Obama eligibility case Edward Noonan, et al v. Deborah Bowen, California Secretary of State.

JT: I thing that the Supreme Court justices should copyright their breathing process when into Barack Hussein Obama as far as possible. They would make millions of dollars selling the rights to POLDS who are trying to get into Barack Hussein Obama even further than Reggie Love. JT has an exclusive picture of Chief Justice John Roberts after the hallmark decision not to make a decision. The decision really got to him!

At <http://www.thedailybeast.com/articles/2013/02/14/rahm-emanuel-toying-with-2016-presidential-run-sources-say.html> there is a report that two “well-connected Democrats” tell TheDailyBeast.com that Obama’s former chief of staff, Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel, may consider running for president in 2016 if Hillary Clinton does not.

JT: Are the "two well connected Democrats Siamese twins? Rahm Emanuel will run for president in 2016? Why not? Criminal thugs take over from criminal thugs!

By the way, she's supporting Barry!

At <http://freebeacon.com/woods-on-obamas-golf-game-hes-got-amazing-touch/> we learn that Tiger Woods says the following about Obama's golfing capabilities:

He had: "a few good shots"

He could be "a good stick"

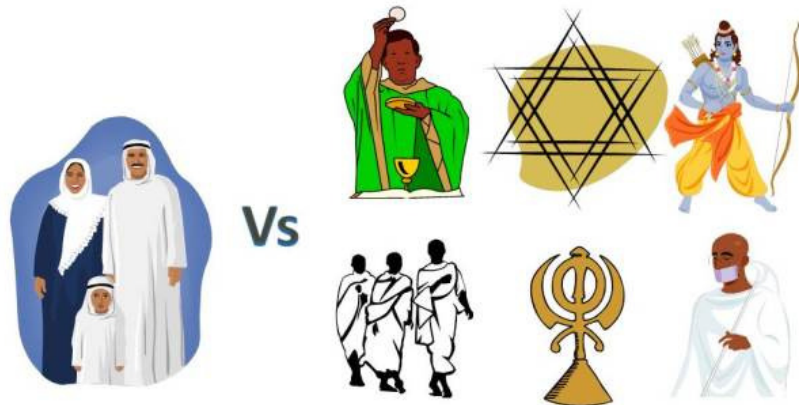

"We did not play under the easiest conditions. It was blowing harder than this and it was a little bit cooler than this. So, we played under some tough conditions.

"He's got amazing touch.

"I am sure he can actually get to where he is a pretty good stick."

"He's quick."

JT: These quips remind me of what Reggie Love and all of Obama's other body servants say about Barry.

Is Obama telling us that he is an illegal alien .

Source: <http://bijkorf.files.wordpress.com/2009/10/obamaaliens.jpg>.

JT: What a silly question. Of course he is an illegal alien!

The Obama Timeline reports that "On Hugh Hewitt's radio program author Mark Steyn comments, 'There are lots of things to get upset with the guy [Obama] over. The issue here is the gulf between what the president preaches and how he lives. ...One Christmas vacation costs more than flying the royal family around the world for a whole year. ...He doesn't live like [the] one percent, he lives like the 0.0000001 percent. He costs more money than every European royal family put together. There's a disconnect here.' Obama escapes criticism because 'Essentially, Obama has achieved the same relationship with the press and the media and public information that the Soviet Communist Party had to jam radio transmissions and smash printing presses to achieve. Essentially these guys are volunteering to do for him what they had to be coerced into doing most self-respecting countries, and I think that's the real issue here.'"

JT: We can't impeach him folks! Taking away all of these necessary items paid for by the taxpayers would cause Barryallah and Mooseschellallah cruel and unusual punishment ... and that is unconstitutional! (Pot shots anybody? Think about pot and shots and you make your choice!)

We are informed by http://yidwithlid.blogspot.de/2013/02/five-months-after-benghazi-terrorists.html?utm_source=The+Lid+List&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=f54def4cf7-RSS_EMAIL_CAMPAIG that in Turkey secular military officers are resigning in droves, in part because they are being forced to take back officers thrown out of the army in the past for radical Islamist activity. Dozens of officers are being arrested, imprisoned, and tried for alleged subversion though no real proof has been offered that a single such plot existed. The Turkish regime cooperates with the terrorist IHH which tried to launch at least one operation on U.S. soil.

JT: Getting rid of its secular officers and, although officially banned in 2008, now cooperating with the terrorist IHH!!! Now that is not good for a NATO country and American ally is it? Well remember what the present Turkish Minister-President Recep Tayyip Erdogan once wrote and said: "The mosques are our barracks, the domes our helmets, the minarets our bayonets and the faithful our soldiers..." (<http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/europe/2270642.stm>). With friends like this who needs enemies?
