JT: You don't believe it? Go to <http://conservativepapers.com/news/2013/03/19/muslim-brotherhood-infiltrates-obama-administration/> and you will read this:

Arif Alikhan – Assistant Secretary for Policy Development for the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (Does he have control over future policies to be written?)

Mohammed Elibiary – Homeland Security Adviser (A Muslim in Homeland Security is like the fox in the hen house)

Rashad Hussain – Special Envoy to the (OIC) Organization of the Islamic Conference (The OIC is the organization that wants to eliminate your freedom of speech)

Salam al-Marayati – Obama Adviser – founder Muslim Public Affairs Council and its current Executive Director

Imam Mohamed Magid – Obama's Sharia Czar – Islamic Society of North America

Eboo Patel – Advisory Council on Faith-Based Neighborhood Partnerships

and perhaps

John Brennan – CIA Director – American who, rumors have it, converted to religion Islam years ago while in Saudi Arabia so that he could marry his Saudi wife.

From the March 2013 issue of The Obama Timeline we read that "The Wall Street Journal reports that a new conservative cable news channel will be launched July 1. The 24-hour network, called One America News, 'will be a combination of straight news reporting and conservative political talk shows, according to [network president] Charles Herring... Mr. Herring said that his family's company, Herring Broadcasting, is investing 'hundreds of millions' of dollars into the new channel, which he says will provide a much-needed alternative in the current news landscape. 'If you take a typical channel on any of the leading video providers, and you try to determine which ones are providing credible news, you get about eight or nine news channels that skew to the left—for example, MSNBC skews left, and some argue that CNN skews left,' Mr. Herring said. 'There is only one that skews right on political talk shows, and that's Fox. We are going to open up another front and give independents, libertarians and all kind of different voices under the conservative umbrella an opportunity to express themselves.'"

JT: Michelle who? Michelle Who swallowed whose wad?

The Obama Timeline reports that "The March 17 episode of the History Channel's series, The Bible, sparks some controversy with the appearance of the devil—portrayal by a Moroccan actor who, at least in his theatrical make-up, resembles Obama. (The movie's producer, Mark Burnett, is an Obama supporter who donated to the Obama campaign and to the Democrat National Committee. John McCormack issues a Twitter message: "Everyone asking why Satan character looks like Obama. When will MSM ask real Q: Why does Obama look like Satan?" Comedian Jimmy Fallon later quips "The guy who plays Satan on The Bible looks like ...Obama. Even Rush Limbaugh was outraged. He was like [sic], 'How can you do that to Satan?'"

JT: Here are the comparison photos. I can't see any difference!

Source: <http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2295082/Why-does-devil-The-Bible-look-exactly-like-President-Obama.html?ito=feeds-newsxml>.

I've known the comparison for years.

Pamela Geller at AtlasShrugs.com tells readers, “Obama is going to Israel with $500 million cash in hand for the Muslims in the terror statelet of Gaza. Brilliant.”

JT: This is the Israel that Obama supports!

Fayez Mansour of the Dehaishe refugee camp near Bethlehem, Israel said that Obama was not welcome in the city. ‘We won’t receive Obama with flowers and a red carpet,’ he declared. ‘We will receive him with shoes. We want to tell America that we hate you and you have no place here. We don’t want to see Obama in Palestine.’

JT: This is how Americans should react at Obama.

March 19, was the 10th anniversary of the invasion of Iraq by U.S. forces. In Iraq terrorists—possibly from al-Qaeda—set off car bombs that kill at least 56 people. Obama gives the following statement: “As we mark the 10th anniversary of the beginning of the Iraq war, Michelle and I join our fellow Americans in paying tribute to all who served and sacrificed in one of our nation’s longest wars. We salute the courage and resolve of more than 1.5 million service members and civilians who, during multiple tours, wrote one of the most extraordinary chapters in military service. We honor the memory of the nearly 4,500 Americans who made the ultimate sacrifice to give the Iraqi people an opportunity to forge their own future after many years of hardship. And we express our gratitude to our extraordinary military families who sacrificed on the home-front, especially our Gold Star families who remain in our prayers.”

JT: Some phrases have been left out. The opening sentence was deleted before the statement was read. It read: "I don't believe one word of what I am about to say!" Another example is at the end of the statement. It should have read:

"And we express our gratitude to our extraordinary military families who sacrificed on the home-front, especially our Gold Star families who remain in our Islamic prayers."

Seven Mariners die while conducting maneuvers in Nevada. Senator Harry Reid says that this would not have happened had the Republicans not implemented the sequester. Former Congressman Allen West, a U.S. Army veteran, answers with a Twitter message: “Disgusted by your attempt to politicize the death of 7 Marines in NV. If you possessed any shred of honor, you’d apologize now.” Don Fredrick reports that one Marine official calls Reid’s statement “pure political posturing on the backs of these dead Marines.” Author and talk show host Mark Levin calls Reid “...the lowest of the low-lives, you know that? You really are at the bottom of the sewer, all the time on every issue—whether it’s accusing Mitt Romney of not filing taxes [sic]. You are just a very ill human being. And the fact that you’re the Senate majority leader says an awful lot about the Democrats in the Senate. The American people deserve better than this miscreant—we do. We deserve better than this man. He is a vicious, stupid man. Somehow out of Searchlight, Nevada he has acquired tens of millions of dollars, as he lives on the penthouse floor in the Ritz-Carlton in Washington, D.C. Somehow, somehow this low I.Q., no-talent hack politician has become the Senate majority leader and an extremely wealthy man. ...Now look at the slime that comes out of his mouth. Seven dead Marines—somebody's sons, somebody's fathers, somebody's brothers—seven dead Marines, and this jerk goes to the Senate floor and he has to talk about the sequester, which has nothing to do with it. Now, did a single Republican go to the Senate floor and condemn this? Well if they did, I haven't heard about it, and they're welcome to call the program and tell us, because this man needs to be condemned on the Senate floor in public for the implication that he drew—and he clearly drew it on the Senate floor today. Our men and women in uniform—they're not there as political props.”

JT: Methinks he is also describing and talking about the Obamas.

In Israel, Obama meets with President Shimon Peres and then with Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu. Obama and Peres plant a tree Obama brought with him from the United States. After the ceremony, Israel's Agriculture Ministry digs it up for examination. Israeli law requires that foreign plants must be inspected.

JT: Inside tree sources have told JT that the tree was chosen to symbolize Obama's policy towards Israel. It was a mortuus lignum aboris, in English: a deadwood tree.

This deserves to be quoted in full via The Obama Timeline for March 2013:

"At Breitbart.com John Sexton comments on the media's (and Obama's) general lack of interest in the trial of Philadelphia abortionist Kermit Gosnell—who was charged with eight counts of murder after the botched-abortion death of one patient and seven babies he allegedly killed after they were born alive. Sexton writes, "But a man who is arguably the worst serial killer in U.S. history, who operated a clinic that is straight out a horror film with freezers full of body parts, a man who actually groomed his subordinates to kill, a man who smiled after he was arrested and believed he would be cleared to return to his important work—amazingly that's of no interest. And it's not just the media that's taking a pass. ...Obama has made a habit of offering words of comfort when tragedy occurs, especially tragedy that involves children.”

“...So where is Obama on the 7 infants killed in Philly (really it's many, many times that number)? Why are there no teachable moments this time? Why no national dialogue about the grim reality of late term abortion? No discussion of the razor thin line between constitutional rights and murder from the First Lawyer. No vow to prevent this happening again by banning scissors or, more to the point, working to eradicate illegal late-term abortions (which like gun crimes are already illegal but still happen). Don't Gosnell's victims deserve a vote? [Obama] will not offer nationally televised words of healing at any of the funerals (complete with souvenir t-shirt). He will not stare into the rafters, pause dramatically and stage whisper something about Kermit Gosnell failing to live up to our best ideals. In short, he will not capitalize on the deaths of these innocent children. And no one in the media seems to have noticed his unusual disinterest in doing so. ...Gosnell is charged with eight murders but it's likely the true number of victims—over two decades—is in the hundreds. For perspective, consider that Gosnell's clinic may well have murdered more infants than the total number of people killed in the Oklahoma City bombing. He certainly killed far more than Adam Lanza or Jared Loughner. My point is, by any measure this is a national tragedy not a local crime story. ...[Obama] himself voted to defend partial-birth abortion, which is one technicality away from the crimes Gosnell committed. Given all this, shouldn't [Obama] at least be asked to comment? Even if he wants to remain silent, for obvious reasons, how can the media allow him to do so?" (Gosnell, who happens to be black, is using racism as his defense—claiming that he is being singled out for prosecution because of his skin color.)

JT: The answer as to why Obama makes no comment is easy. The victims, babies and adults were non-believers in Islam.

JT: Moosecheele is an idiot! A six-piece box means that the box is made of six pieces, not that there are six pieces of something in the box. Speaking of boxes ... and nuggets ... well, you think about it!

We read the following in the March 2013 report of The Obama Timeline by Don Fredrick:

In attendance at the CPAC event are radio talk show host Dr. Carl Gallups and Mike Zullo, lead investigator of Sheriff Joe Arpaio's "cold case posse"—which has been accumulating evidence related to Obama's forged birth certificates, Selective Service registration form, and stolen Social Security numbers. ThePostEmail.com reports that Gallups and Zullo met with several members of Congress who were at CPAC. Gallups states, "An obvious crime has been committed that is historic. We have the evidence. We have the criminal investigation." Gallups adds that he was given "promises" that something would be done about the "Obama identity scandal." Gallups relates that some Congressmen were "quite shocked" by the information he and Zullo provided. "Once Lieutenant Zullo sat down and explained what [evidence] he had, their jaws were on the floor. ...We've got the proof. Now we need a ruling on the proof. I think we may get it very soon based upon what these VIPs are telling us now that they have seen the evidence." On the other hand, one "very prominent" conservative (former Congressman Allen West) responded to the evidence about Obama by saying, "I can't get involved in that because it might hurt my future political aspirations."

JT: Am I surprised? Yes, I am! I thought Alan West had a backbone!

"Sasha and Malia Obama are quietly vacationing at the Atlantis resort on Paradise Island in the Bahamas, Breitbart News has learned. A source tipped Breitbart News off to the First Daughters' spring vacation, which was not publicly announced or reported. Breitbart subsequently confirmed ...Obama's daughters' trip with other sources. Both the White House and the Atlantis resort declined to confirm the report or comment, but another guest provided a photograph of Sasha and Malia at the resort. Social media, including Twitter and Facebook, have also carried reports of the First Daughters' presence at Atlantis. One person who is at the resort wrote: 'Rumor confirmed: friends saw the first daughters with a gaggle of friends being escorted to the held elevator.' ...It is unclear at this time if first lady Michelle Obama is also at the resort, or if she is planning to join her daughters there. ...Sasha and Malia both attend Sidwell Friends School, which is currently on its spring break. That break continues through Friday. It is unclear how long the first daughters will be staying in the Bahamas, or what the cost will be to taxpayers. ...According to Judicial Watch, Malia Obama's trip to Mexico last spring break, during which she was apparently accompanied by Secret Service protection, cost taxpayers $115,500.87. Sasha did not accompany Malia on that trip." (<http://www.breitbart.com/Big-Government/2013/03/25/Exclusive-Sasha-Malia-Obama-vacation-in-Bahamas-Atlantis>)

JT: One way to pay for these important vacations for destitute young girls and their equally destitute friends is to stop the White House Tours. Another way is to close down schools.

"Virginia law will require all voters to have photo IDs beginning next year. Gov. Bob McDonnell signed a bill Tuesday that his fellow Republicans said was a safeguard against voter fraud. Democrats bitterly denounced the legislation as a Jim Crow-era tactic to suppress the votes of the elderly, minorities and the underprivileged. The legislation provides for a free valid ID with the bearer's photo to any registered voter who lacks one."

JT: That's not right! That's racism! That's anti-Obama! Virginia is taking away the possibility of voting multiple times! (<http://news.msn.com/politics/va-gov-signs-bill-requiring-photo-id-to-vote>)

Recently there have been articles appearing stating that Republican Senator Ted Cruz from Texas cannot be a candidate for the Presidency in 2016 because he is not a natural born citizen. What? He can't be a candidate and Obama can be President? Let me think about this. ... Karl Marx could have been president. Although born in Germany, which is geographically close to the United States of America, JT has been told by the Obama regime that Germany at that time belonged to the United States and that Marx's mother was really a working wife from Brooklyn and his father was, please forgive me for pointing it out, a pre-communist agitator in Chicago. Furthermore, the Obama regime has told JT that they have unequivocal birth certificate proof that Karl Marx was really born an American. Another important historical person, if he ever lived, is Mohammed. (What a question! Does this make JT a non-believer?) The POLDS and the Obama regime claim that they have proof that he was not born in the desert of Arabia, but in the New Mexico desert to a legal-illegal immigrant from pre-Mexico Mexico belonging to the Muck Crap tribe that had settled the region long before Columbus discovered America. Mohammed's father was Allah-Hubal and his birth was less than immaculate. The Obama regime also has a birth certificate proving the fact that Mohammed would have been a natural born citizen. It is signed by Janet Napolitano's great, grandmother father. Her/his name was Butch.

In Israel Obama persuaded Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu to apologize to Turkish Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdogan for Israel's self-defense killing of nine Turkish protesters that were on board the Turkish ship Mavi Marmara on May 31, 2010, when it tried to run the Israeli blockade of the Gaza coastline controlled by Hamas.

JT: Methinks Obama is not only a Muslim sympathizer, probably a closet member of the Muslim Brotherhood, but also a turkey. Here's visual proof of both:

<http://cnsnews.com/news/article/feds-spending-880000-study-benefits-snail-sex> reports that "The National Science Foundation awarded a grant for $876,752 to the University of Iowa to study whether there is any benefit to sex among New Zealand mud snails and whether that explains why any organism has sex. The study, first funded in 2011 and continuing until 2015, will study the New Zealand snails to see if it is better that they reproduce sexually or asexually-the snail can do both-hoping to gain insight on why so many organisms practice sexual reproduction."

JT: I thought this might interest you. There are important questions to be answered with this Obama-supported scientific study: Some are:

- Is slow, snail sex better than fast sex?
- Do snails have "quickies"?
- Is this another example of Obama's hope and change?
- How will this affect Barry's relationships with his body servants?
- Will the results of the study help Mosechelallah reduce weight?
- Will the study assist Big Sis Napolitano in logical thinking and movement within the Department of Homeland Security?
- Are thrills running up Chris Matthews' leg?
- I challenge you to ask your own questions.

O my goodness this is so important!!!

At The Obama Timeline we read: "With public support for gun control legislation waning, Obama delivers a White House speech surrounded by family members of shooting victims. Obama predictably brings up the killings in Newtown, Connecticut, and essentially labels anyone who opposes his legislative plans as eager to see children killed in bloodbaths across the nation. Obama states, 'There is absolutely no reason why we can't get this [gun control] done. But the reason we're talking about it here today is because it's not done until it's done. And there are some powerful voices on the other side that are interested in running out the clock, or changing the subject or drowning out the majority of the American people to prevent any of these reforms from happening at all. They're doing everything they can to make all our progress collapse under the weight of fear and frustration, or their assumption is, is that people will just forget about it. ...Shame on us if we've forgotten. I haven't forgotten those kids. Shame on us if we've forgotten. If there is one thing I've said consistently since I first ran for this office, nothing is more powerful than millions of voices calling for change.' "

JT: At the same time Obama said this: "'There is absolutely no reason why we can't get more abortions done. But the reason we're talking about it here today is because it's not done until it's done. And there are some powerful voices on the other side that are interested in running out the clock, or changing the subject or drowning out the majority of the American people to prevent any of these abortion reforms for more abortions from happening at all. They're doing everything they can to make all our abortion progress collapse under the weight of fear and frustration, or their assumption is, is that people will just forget about it. ...Shame on us if we've forgotten about abortion. I have forgotten those kids. Shame on us if we've forgotten abortions.
