MyJoyOnline.com reports, "30,000 scientists, including the founder of The Weather Channel, have come forward to sue former US Vice President Al Gore for fraud, alleging that he made massive profits in the promotion of the global warming mythology. They scientists are hoping the lawsuit will finally give the thousands of 'dissenting' scientists a voice again."

JT: Wow! She's from Chicago, married to Billy-the-Cigar Clinton, is a Democrat-Socialist, and is bisexual!. That's a lot of nothings. Does her bisexuality mean that she will get double the chances to be rejected? At least she should be rejected if she runs for President in 2016. Rumor has it that she will continue her love affair with Huma Abden.

What To Do If You Shoot An Intruder

By Neal Boortz

Because gun sales are at an all-time high, sooner or later one of my listeners or readers is going to have to use their gun to protect their life or the life of a loved one. Someone is going to break into your house and you are going to have to shoot that person and kill them in self defense. When this occurs, you need to know what to do after you've pulled the trigger.

The perp is laying DRT on your foyer floor. Now what?

Step #1: Tell your wife (or anyone else in your house) to get into the bathroom or a back bedroom and stay there until either you or the police come to get you.

Step #2: Call 911 and tell them the following, Someone has been shot in my house. I am going to perform CPR. Then set the phone down next to the body. DO NOT HANG UP. Proceed to do CPR with 911 listening and recording.

Make it audibly clear that you are performing CPR, "Cmon buddy, breathe."

Step #3: As soon as the police arrive, they will tell you to come out of the house. Tell them that you are performing CPR and cannot leave until you are relieved. Once a medical professional relieves you, stand up and let them take care of the debris.

Step #4: When the police come into your house they will most likely ask you What happened here? The first words out of your mouth should be I was afraid for my life. When they ask if anyone else is in the house, tell them Yes, my wife is in the bathroom. I was afraid he would attack her, so I told her to hide there until you came.

Step #5: The police will then ask you more questions. Dont answer. The next words out of your mouth should be, I dont feel good. I feel nauseous. I need medical attention. At that point, the questioning should be over as the ambulance hauls you to the hospital.

Step #6: Once you arrive at the hospital, call your lawyer. Say nothing more to the police.

Why the instructions? Because there is surely going to be someone out there who is going to start whining and moaning about their dead boyfriend, husband, son, buddy, whatever. You are going to be painted as a gun-happy violent killer who needlessly took another life. If you take the steps above it will be clear that you did only what you had to do to protect yourself and your property. Remember --- there will be an audio recording for the police and the prosecutors to listen to, and for your attorney to present as evidence if need be, which will show you desperately trying to save the predators life after you found it necessary to shoot him to save yours.

This may sound foolish right now, but after the action is finished, you won't regret knowing these facts.

JT: The above article was provided to JT by Joan Swirsky. Read her latest article ROTTEN TO THE CORE at <http://www.renewamerica.com/columns/swirsky/130919>. Here you will find out how POLDS are dumbing down American children and high schoolers every day! Students they are not!

JT: A very important encounter: I'm walking through the woods and a witch (No, not Michelle, ... a good witch!) jumps out from behind a tree. I'm not scared and I say, "Good day Ms. Witch, can I help you?" Ms. Witch answers, "You aren't afraid of me? Wonderful! You are a true American Patriot, (I wonder how she knew that?) I will grant you a wish and fulfill it!" I thank her and then say that my wish is two-fold. She says that is it okay and that she will fulfill it. I then tell her my wish:

"I wish that all of the babies who have been aborted in America would come to life and that there would never be another abortion the United States of America. The second part of my wish is that this be the same with all aborted babies in the remaining countries of the world; that they come to life and that there is never another aborted baby in the world ... and that everyone thank God for these precious gifts of life and love."

The witch begins to cry, shouts out, "Amen" and sings Hallelujah as presented in Revelation 19:1-8.

"A series of videos produced for the National Park Service shows American Muslim students blaming hatred against their faith on the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. The videos also promoted Islam as a pioneer in women's rights and addressed a 'general ignorance about what Islam is.' 'Islam within itself, Islam itself means peace,' the government video states. 'Islam brings nothing but peace if you truly look into it.' The video was posted on the website for the Women's Rights National Historical Park. It was filmed at the AnNur Islamic School in Schenectady, N.Y. by a National Park Service intern. According to the park's website, the three-part series features children as they 'discuss their experiences and challenges with negative Muslim stereotypes and assumptions.' ...The National Park Service did not respond to questions about whether they've produced videos promoting other religions—like Christianity or Judaism.”

(<http://www.foxnews.com/opinion/2013/09/23/national-park-service-produces-videos-praising-islam/?intcmp=latestnews>)

JT: Evidently Islam has become a national parking service. Christianity and Judaism do not qualify for this type of special parking service because they are ethical, moral, and tell the truth about God.

JT: I have a general question: Why does the National Park Service praise evil? Is it possible that the National Park Service is taking steps to safeguard the American National Parks and Forests from and future incendiary activities of Muslim jihadists and terrorists?

JT: Here is how Obama describes the destruction: (<http://dailycaller.com/2013/09/25/obama-says-goal-is-to-win-house-majority-in-2014/>) "The good news is that when you look at the country and the direction we're moving in, what you see is a country that's becoming more tolerant, a country that's becoming more inclusive, a country that understands there's no contradiction between growing the economy and conserving this planet for the next generation. I know why I fight for the things I fight for, because I want to make sure that the values that all of you stand for and that you're passing on to your kids, that those are the values that this whole country lives by." ... "We could be doing a lot more... We could be rebuilding our roads and our bridges and our infrastructure... putting in place early-childhood education for every family in America... We could be doing so much more if we had a Congress that was focused on you and not focused on politics day-to-day."

Not one word is true, except that Obama wants more money! We are witnesses to this continued destruction.

While their Muslims commit atrocities around the world in the name of their religion, New York City holds a Muslim Day Parade to honor "Islam's Contribution to Human Civilization." Al-Qaeda and other jihadist flags adorn the parade route. (<http://urbaninfidel.blogspot.ch/2013/09/muslim-day-parade-2013.html>)

JT. It was a parade for the world's history upside down and inside out. As a non-apologetic historian would tell you, the only outcome of Islam is the destruction of civilizations. I challenge anyone to convince me of the opposite!

Sheikh Abulaziz Abu Muscab, a spokesman for the Al-Shabab terrorist group, tells Al-Jazeera, "The place we attacked is Westgate shopping mall. It is a place where tourists from across the world come to shop, where diplomats gather. It is a place where Kenya's decision-makers go to relax and enjoy themselves. Westgate is a place where there are Jewish and American shops. So we have to attack them." [48742, 48743]

JT: Let's reverse the argument: The Al-Shabab is an Islamic terrorist group that wants to cause destruction and the annihilation of tourists, Kenyan decision-makers, Jewish and American shops, and innocent people. Therefore, they have to be fought, and killed in such a manner that they will not die as martyrs and will not go to Jannah!

JT: I suggest she take a laxative. Perhaps this is what happens to a person when that person is not capable of recognizing and understanding reality. For example, Know-it-all Nancy Pelosi said recently that Republicans don't like Obama because "He's brilliant... he thinks in a strategic way in how to get something done... and he's completely eloquent. That's a package that they don't like. ...He has been ... open, practically apolitical, certainly non-partisan, in terms of welcoming every idea and solution. I think that's one of the reasons the Republicans want to take him down politically, because they know he is... nonpartisan... and that's something very hard for them to cope with." (<http://hotair.com/archives/2013/09/20/pelosi-lets-face-it-republicans-hate-obama-because-hes-eloquent-and-nonpartisan/>)
