Clint Lorance

Twenty eight year old First Lieutenant Clint Lorance of North Texas was recently found guilty of two counts of murder in the July 2012 killing of two suspected Taliban fighters in a remote sector of Kandahar Province Afghanistan. Lorance was sentenced to 20 years in Leavenworth, dismissed from the army and must forfeit all pay. He was found not guilty of making a false official statement.

Prosecutors insisted Lorance ordered his men to open fire on unarmed civilians which violates the U.S. military's official rules of engagement – a policy that requires them to hold their fire unless there's evidence of hostile action or direct hostile intent. Capt. William Miller, a government prosecutor, told the jury "Lt. Lorance used his rank and position to harass, intimidate, threaten and murder Afghans."

Lorance's defense argued that the village being patrolled was under Taliban control and had long since been vacated by all known civilian inhabitants due to constant violence and warfare. In fact, Lorance had just taken command of that particular platoon because in the days prior they had suffered several losses – including the loss of their prior commander.

Lorance's very presence in the situation was a testament to the "hostile action" and definitive "hostile intent" that U.S. troops had come to expect in that district.

——-background of Lorance

Clint Allen Lorance was born on December 13, 1984 and is a North Texas native who grew up in the town of Celeste. He was a member of the FFA as well as a Police Explorer throughout High School who also worked 3 jobs simultaneously to help cover household expenses as well as prepare for moving out on his own when he turned 18.

On the day of his 18th birthday Lorance walked into the Army recruiting station in Greenville, Texas and joined the Army as a Military Policeman. Upon graduating from Basic Training and AIT he shipped off to his first duty assignment in Pusan, South Korea. His next duty station was in Fort Richardson, AK, stopping briefly at Fort Benning, GA to earn his Airborne Wings.

As part of the 4th Airborne Brigade Combat Team in Alaska, Clint deployed for his first deployment to Iraq from September 2006 to November 2007, initially a 12 month deployment which turned into a 15 month deployment. Lorance was then assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division's 4th BCT and deployed to Afghanistan in March 2012 to Southern Afghanistan. During his deployment, Clint was the squadron's liaison officer to the commander until selected to become a platoon leader.

——-setting the stage

Lorance's patrol, consisting of 16 US Infantrymen, 5 Afghan National Army Soldiers, and 1 US Interpreter, left their Strong Point early in the morning on July 2nd 2012 headed to a remote village within the Kandahar sector of Afghanistan for a combat patrol.

Traveling on foot with electronic mine-sweepers in the front due to the heavily mine-riddled terrain, Lorance was in constant contact with overhead US Army helicopter pilots who had warned Lorance over the radio of enemy presence to the North, East and West of the Platoon's position on the ground. Lorance confirmed with the pilots a good description of the enemy, and pilots continued to track and provide overhead surveillance for LT Lorance's platoon.

As the patrol approached the village they spotted 2 individuals who were sitting on a motorcycle at a distance observing the patrol's movement. The individuals matched the exact description that the Army pilots had relayed to Lorance moments earlier.

It's common practice for Taliban fighters to use what the US calls "spotters". This is a tactic the Taliban uses to communicate with one another and track the movement of platoons, just as it was apparently doing in the case of Lorance's patrol.

Official intelligence reports for the area identified any personnel owning or operating a motorcycle as Taliban because as I mentioned earlier, there was no local population living there. The local population had long since moved out of the area because it had been taken over by the Taliban. Essentially, if they were in the area, they were up to no good and if they were in that area and perched upon a motorcycle sitting stationary there was little doubt they must have been Taliban scouts intent on divulging the existence and whereabouts of Lorance's platoon – as had obviously happened just days prior when the same platoon was attacked in the same geographic location – losing several men.

——- his decision

Realizing the situation afforded him just seconds to react, Lorance made the decision to protect his troops by preventing the scouts from relaying back to the Taliban any further information as the platoons whereabouts by ordering a trained US marksman, who was standing guard in an overwatch position from the road on a US gun truck, to fire two long-range precision shots, eliminating the threat, but it was too late. Within minutes Lorance and his men found themselves embroiled in a gunfight with Taliban fighters.

———the aftermath

Following the precision shots US Intelligence intercepted enemy radio signals talking about the position of the patrol and planning an ambush. Moments later, Lorance's men engaged with and killed two confirmed Taliban fighters who were planning the ambush.

Simultaneously, Lorance's men in a separate location intercepted and detained a Taliban fighter who was attempting to flee the village on a motorcycle. Another suspected Taliban fighter was shot in the arm and was intercepted by the Afghan Army Soldiers. Lorance ordered his Combat Medic to immediately stabilize the man and bring him back to base with the patrol for further medical treatment and remain on Lorance's base pending the investigation.

Upon return to base, Lorance ordered both of the captured men be tested for gunshot residue on their hands. Both men tested positive, confirming Lorance's suspicions that the men had fired weapons recently.

Lorance then ordered that both men be physically separated, put into a shaded area, and be given food and water. Two-three hours later, the prisoners were transported to the Detainee processing facility at the Brigade Headquarters.

Even though both men tested positive for gunshot residue and were acting suspiciously military intelligence released them back into the wild.

The two aforementioned scouts were not confirmed as enemy fighters by that same exact military intelligence and the Army assumed Lorance guilty of random acts of murder – fired him from platoon leader and took his weapon. He was moved to HQ to assume administrative duties while awaiting the investigation.

On Tuesday January 15th 2013 Clint was charged.

——-the trial

The marksman in this particular case, as well as 4 other U.S. military operatives involved in the events of July 2 2012, were exonerated of all responsibility in exchange for their testimony against Lorance.

On August 1st Lorance was found guilty on 2 counts of murder by a 10 member jury comprised of military officers. During the sentencing hearing Lorance said “I take full responsibility for the actions of my men on 2 July, 2012.”

Former military colleagues appeared and spoke on behalf of Lorance's character, telling the jury they always knew Lorance as a smart, above-average soldier.

Capt. Zachary Pierce called Lorance “trustworthy,” “unparalleled” and “one of the kindest and gentlest people I've ever met.”

Regardless, Lorance was sentenced to 20 years at the Fort Leavenworth military prison in Kansas.

After the sentence was announced, Lorance turned to hug his crying friends and family members who traveled from Texas to North Carolina to watch the trial and support their hero during his court trial.

“Y'all can handle this,” Lorance told them. “Be strong.”

Lorance's family has maintained that he was unfairly singled out by the military for simply doing his job.

“Any military mother, if I were you, I’d get them out of the military,” Lorance’s mother, Anna, said through tears as she and the rest of his family left the courthouse. “I’d get them home.”

———ed note

I spoke to Anna Lorance for nearly an hour via telephone today (9.24.13) preparing to write this report. The only thing more predominant than utter sadness in her voice and the words she chose to relay to me – was pride. She seemed quite torn between the crippling sadness of the injustice which has befallen her son and the beaming prideful joy any parent would have for their son or daughter who’s accomplished great things.

You can walk into any local Chase Bank worldwide and make a tax deductible contribution to “Defend Veteran Lorance.” Your contribution will be applied directly to Clint Lorance’s legal fees which includes an upcoming appeal.

Clint Lorance is being added to our DCX “Leavenworth 10 – Uncommon Injustice” series page where he will be honored alongside others who have suffered the same fate. While he wasn’t one of the original 10 members of that unfortunate group of brave heros – it’s becoming quite obvious that the first 10 were merely the beginning. Based on my own research I suspect there are approximately 90-100 soldiers currently serving time in Leavenworth for charges related to killing the enemy in order to protect themselves or the lives of their comrades – resulting in nothing more than U.S. soldiers becoming POW’s of the United States’ current policy of radical Islamic appeasement.

Check out the following video and share it with your friends. With your support and interest we can make all Americans aware of Clint’s case and the cases of other American heros who have been unfairly persecuted in the name of injustice:

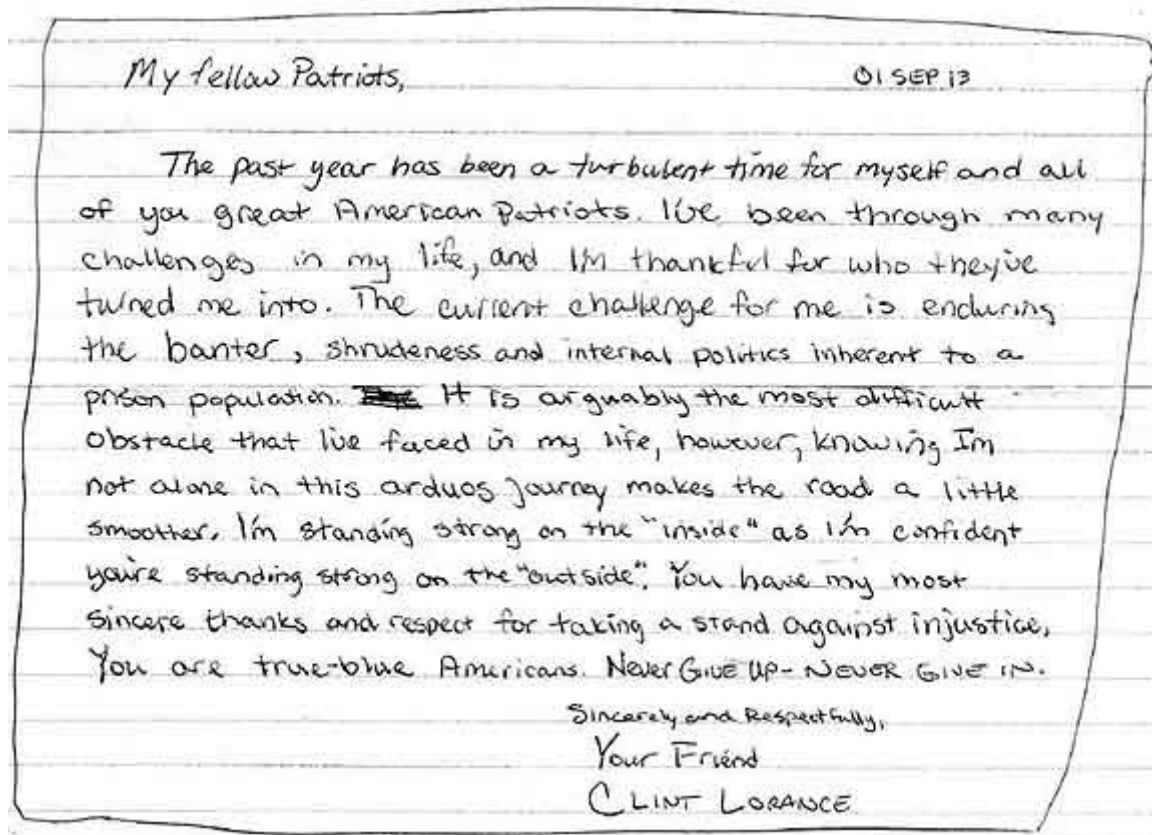

Clint Lorance has dedicated his entire adult life to serving his country and protecting American freedoms. During his tours he risked his life combating an enemy who wishes to bring great harm to our beloved country.

How ironic that — instead of his life being taken by that enemy, it was taken, in many regards, by the very government that ordered him onto the field of battle to begin with. You know what to do. My readers have done it more than 500,000 times in regards to these stories of military injustice. Click, share, comment, sign the petition to free Clint Lorange, visit his website, and/or make a donation to his legal defense – but please get involved and spend some time every day informing others who might not be aware that our own government is persecuting, prosecuting, and imprisoning our very own sons and daughters for the alleged crime of protecting American lives and defending American soil.

JT: I have posted the entire article and signed the petition. There once was a time when American enemies in war were either killed in battle or taken prisoner. What we have now is because of Barack Hussein Obama's Rules of Engagement. Keep the enemy alive, let him go free and incarcerate the defending soldier of the United States of America. The one who should be in Leavenworth is the putative occupier of the Oval Office, the Muslim traitor, Barack Hussein Obama, Allah hop!!! Allah hop !!! Allah hop! up yours.

Perhaps it's time to head back. Maybe it would be asking too much for the president and his immediate family to vacate his federally-provided residence for the duration of the shutdown, but if Obama is willing to interpret the law to evict the aging and elderly from private buildings and businesses which may sit on federal land but which do not require federal services, then it's well past time to end the hypocrisy and send Robinson to a nearby hotel. Presumably Obama can afford it, far more than those he seems intent on having the government harass under a tendentious and mendacious reading of the law."

JT: Now we know the true, legal status.

Via <http://www.ldsforum.com/viewtopic.php?f=56&p=369041> we learn of the following experiment

Today I swung my front door wide open and placed my Winchester 12 gauge shotgun right in the doorway.

I left 6 shells beside it, then left it alone and went about my business.

While I was gone, the mailman delivered my mail, the neighbor boy across the street mowed the yard, a girl walked her dog down the street, and quite a few cars stopped at the stop sign near the front of our house.

After about an hour, I checked on the gun.

It was still sitting there, right where I had left it.

It hadn't moved itself outside.

It certainly hadn't killed anyone, even with the numerous opportunities it had been presented to do so.

In fact, it hadn't even loaded itself.

Well you can imagine my surprise, with all the media hype about how dangerous guns are and how they kill people.

Either the media is wrong or I'm in possession of the laziest gun in the world.

Well, I'm off to check on my spoons.

I hear they're making people fat.

JT: Many deaths are caused by violent cars. I did the experiment with my car.

The results were the same. I parked the car in the driveway, no children or animals were run over. No brick walls were damaged. No trees were hit. There were no car accidents.

The media is definitely wrong!

JT: That's an insult to all American Patriots, Past, Present, Future, alive, and deceased, and killed in action! It's like saying "Nice Kitty" after the feline has scratched out your eyes!

JT: An excellent statement from Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline:

Obama's demand that the GOP approve a resumption of full federal spending and increase the debt limit without any strings attached before he will negotiate anything is tantamount to Crazy Horse telling General Custer, "After the battle, let's talk!"

We read the following damning POLD responses at <http://rare.us/story/mitt-romney-has-an-adopted-grandchild-left-erupts-with-venom/> about Mitt Romney's son Ben and his wife Andelyne had adopting a child (who happens to be black). Nancy French quotes some responses:

They only adopted a black baby so Mitt Romney wouldn't seem racist but we already know...

Mitt Romney out here kidnapping black children. I see what's going on.

Please give that baby back MITT ROM.

Mitt Romney just bought a black grandchild, straight cash dawg.

pls, MittRomney & co could be indoctrinating that new blk grandson w/ ALL sorts of white conservative rich v. poor 'bootstrap values' bs.

I hope Mitt Romney doesn't pass on his views about the coloreds onto his new grandson.

AnnDRomney MittRomney yall about to teach that child self hate... That should be illegal.

Why do you adopt black babies?????

Mitt Romney adopted a grandchild? So he bought a black baby and went to his daughters house like Here. It needs to be walked and fed daily.

So Mitt Romney adopted (purchased) a black grandchild.

Stay strong kid, child services is on it's way.

Please give that baby back MittRomney.

Nancy French writes, "Isn't it ironic? Aren't conservatives allegedly the haters in our great cultural conflicts? Sadly, identity politics have become so thoroughly ingrained in many leftists that they truly no longer see a child as a separate human being but representative of a larger group—a group whose interests they serve, not us. So, they shame and mock conservatives—consequences be damned. Sure, children will suffer but that's not their concern. They have larger political issues to consider."

JT: Methinks POLDS, like they always do, have again undressed their character and they cut abominable figures.

The following article is long. Nevertheless, please read it completely. It contains information that Barack Hussein Obama never told you about concerning Obamacare. He didn't lie to you. He just didn't tell you the truth! At http://www.naturalnews.com/042427_Obamacare_private_details_Trojan_Horse.html

Mike Adams warns, "We have already established that Healthcare.gov is not a functioning database application that allows people to shop for competing health plans. It is actually a government-run Trojan Horse that suckers people into creating accounts where they hand over: Name and address, email address and password, Social Security number, private bank account details, employer details and other information. During the enrollment process, your computer also hands over your IP address which is then tied to your social security number. This IP address is then handed over to the NSA thanks to its new mega-black-hole data center in Utah, where your IP is cross-referenced with all website visits, including: 'Anti-government' websites, porn sites, gambling sites, file sharing sites, 'terrorism' support sites, encryption service sites like Hushmail, chat rooms, message boards and more. Armed with this information, the NSA can then link your seemingly-anonymous online chats, comments and posts with your social security number. Linguistic algorithms can 'score' your online posts to create red flags that call for additional investigations of anyone using words like 'liberty' or 'patriot.' This information can then be turned over to law enforcement, as is found in the fine print of the Maryland Obamacare exchange, which states: ...we may share information provided in your application with the appropriate authorities for law enforcement and audit activities. Thus, by enrolling in Obamacare, you are voluntarily surveilling yourself and handing over the data to the government while also AGREEING to terms of self-incrimination."

"Ponder the implications of this for a moment... Obamacare is actually a self-incrimination surveillance program designed to ensnare the American people in a devil's contract. Obamacare is the meta-level con of tricking Americans into thinking they're signing up for free health insurance when, in reality, the website primarily exists to scrape personal financial details, passwords, emails and social security numbers from Americans who will later be targeted by the government itself. All the emails [addresses] registered with Healthcare.gov, for example, will likely be used by the Obama administration to spam people with political propaganda or contrived 'terror alerts' that use fear to concentrate more power in the hands of government. All the financial data will be turned over to the IRS for criminal investigations of Americans who are suspected of under-reporting their incomes (or supporting 'patriot' groups with financial donations). All the passwords used on Healthcare.gov will be turned over to the NSA and matched up with individual IP addresses so that NSA operatives can hack into private bank accounts, encrypted email accounts and other private data, based on the assumption that most users use identical passwords across all the websites they commonly access. (A person's password under Obamacare probably has a 50% chance of also working for their online banking. And since the NSA has your social security number, it's a no-brainer to match up your online surfing habits with your phone number, home address, investment holdings, tax returns, international travel history and so on.) In essence, Obamacare allows the government to gather a goldmine of private data that can be exploited to target, punish, incriminate, blackmail or steal from any desired target. As this is a federal government that believes it now has total power to do anything it wants without limit, there are no boundaries of what it might do with this data. ...And Healthcare.gov is the portal for scraping passwords, IP addresses and even financial details from anyone gullible enough to actually hand this over to government (i.e. democrats). As far as I'm concerned, the IRS can fine me all they want. I'm never voluntarily enrolling in Obamacare, even if you put a gun to my head like Obama is doing to the entire nation right now with this insane, contrived government shutdown that treats our own veterans like dirt."

Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline adds: "While it is true that the IRS has the Social Security numbers and addresses of all taxpayers, it does not have their computer IP addresses. Using Healthcare.gov gives that information to the government. If it wants to, it can then match every web site an individual uses to his IP address, and that IP address to his Social Security number. Although The Obama Timeline may not necessarily agree with Adams that the government will do all things he is worried it will do, it is certainly true that Healthcare.gov means it makes it easier for it to do so.")

[BOMBSHELL] Ex-CIA Agent Claims Obama Killed Breitbart and Clancy

Doctor Jim Garrow, philanthropist and worker for one of the largest non-profit organizations on the planet to save female children from slaughter in China. He has been featured on several media outlets throughout the world. Last Sunday, as a guest of Now the End Begins internet radio program however, he dropped a bombshell on the world. Dr. Garrow claims that up to a week ago he was covert CIA. To top it off on the program, he states he knows that President Obama ordered the hits that killed Tom Clancy and Andrew Breitbart!

Doctor Jim Garrow is a man that works for ending genocide in China. He has a PhD, taught college classes in the United States, and throughout the world. He is also the founder of the Bethune Institute, which operates hundreds of schools throughout China. He was even given a secondary honorary doctorate from the North Carolina Collage of Theology and is one of the few Christian teachers in China. In fact many of the Chinese elite business members and military personnel send their kids to Doctor Garrow's school.

Then Doctor Garrow started noticing the atrocities surrounding him in China. He started noticing that there was a diminishing value in the lives of females. With China issuing the order of one child per family due to overcrowding, families were literally choosing to abort, sell, and even kill the female child to try for a boy to pass on their lineage and name sake.

Thus he founded Pink Pagoda Girls, a world non-profit organization dedicated to the rescue of unwanted girls in China. Pink Pagoda Girls even goes as far as finding homes for the female children. The work has become so recognized not just in the United States but around the world. Dr. Jim Garrow was even nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in saving the lives of over 50,000 young Chinese women.

So it came as an absolute shock when listening to the internet radio program on Now the End Begins radio that he made several startling revelations.

Dr. Garrow revealed that he was actually asked to take the military litmus test that he outed in February 2013. Among the rumors that the United States Military was purging top brass using a “litmus test” of sorts. The high-ranking officials were being asked “would you fire on an American citizen”. If you said no, you found yourself unemployed. Several high-ranking officials have claimed this. Dr. Garrow spoke out about this on Alex Jones’s radio program, Now the End Begins radio, Glenn Beck, and several conservative internet mediums. If you wonder why several top officials were asked to step down or retire, this very well may be why. It left open the question as to why Dr. Garrow of all people would be asked this “litmus test”.

Well it seems that was when Dr. Garrow decided once again to shock the world by stating that up until October 3, 2013, that he was a CIA operative in the Obama Administration, and actually fired from the CIA by President Obama, or “outed” he called it, for his blowing the cover on the Military Litmus Test. The President’s branch director forced Dr. Garrow into early retirement for leaking “classified” information.

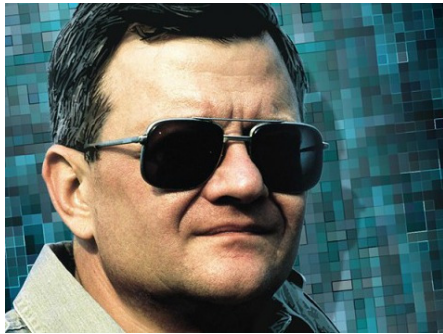

But the surprises kept right on coming.

Andrew Breitbart died under mysterious circumstances. The autopsy said that he died with no prescription drugs in his system and only a .04 blood alcohol content not days after taping an interview with the now also deceased “alleged” gay lover of President Barack H. Obama. So why if he died of natural causes did the FBI go after his widow for potential homicide?

Well according to Dr. Jim Garrow, Andrew Breitbart was not dead of natural causes. According to the interview, he was killed directly by the Obama Administration. Andrew Breitbart was known for his controversy against the administration and the news media.

Several people believed he was killed including some of the main founders of www.breitbart.com in his memory.

Then there was Tom Clancy. Tom Clancy died last week at the age of 66. Although they say “natural causes”, the actual list of cause of death on his autopsy, cause of death unknown.

Tom Clancy once said:

I hang my hat on getting as many things right as I can. I’ve made up stuff that’s turned out to be real — that’s the spooky part.”-Tom Clancy to the New York Times

It is no secret when he wrote The Hunt for the Red October that he was met at the door by Pentagon officials and FBI agents demanding to know where he got top-secret documents. Dr. Garrow states that after the incident, the CIA “spoon fed” him classified information and scenarios to write his novels in a manner that was entertaining but contained that ever needed element of truth. Dr. Garrow says that is why he was killed because he was getting to close to a secret they don’t want the world to know. In fact Dr. Garrow attributes the statement quoted above as “a little too late”.

Dr. Garrow states President Obama had Tom Clancy killed as well and noted that it takes 5 days for plant toxins and most poisons to break down and leave no traces in the human body. Amazingly enough, or coincidentally, the doctors did not perform an autopsy on Tom Clancy’s body for 5 days.

Finally he revealed a revelation so shocking to the radio program that can be best described in their own words:

Lastly, he revealed that Obama’s administration was made up of Marxist Muslims who all take their orders from Senior Adviser to the President, Iranian-born Valerie Jarrett. Dr. Garrow said that it is well known to intelligence agencies all over the world that Obama is a foreign plant who was placed on the path to the presidency by ultra-rich Saudi nationals This is why, Garrow said, that all of Obama’s education records have been permanently sealed.- Now The End Begins

The new $100 bill goes into circulation Tuesday, adding a splash of color and stylish flourishes to the currency featuring Benjamin Franklin's ever-familiar face. While Ben's "You lookin' at me?" portrait stays the same, there are several notable changes.

1. The very feel of the bill. For the first time, the engraving process includes the effect of "raised printing." This effect "can be felt throughout the $100 note, and gives genuine U.S. currency its distinctive texture," a government website on the design changes says.
2. The dashed blue strip to Ben's left? Not a printing goof. It's actually part of a security feature designed to help tell real $100s from fake ones. Tilt the bill, and designs along the strip change from bells — as in, Liberty Bells — to the number "100," in moving patterns. In fact, the blue ribbon has nothing to do with printing — it's actually woven onto to the paper.
3. Further to Ben's left (your right) is a new icon rendered in another non-green hue, a copper-colored inkwell. Within the inkwell is another security feature, a color-shifting bell.
4. Around the inkwell (not in it) is a quill. It represents the pen used by the Founding Fathers to sign the Declaration of Independence, according to newmoney.gov, a website affiliated with the Federal Reserve Board, U.S. Secret Service and the Treasury Department.
5. By the inkwell is a "100" label, in the bill's lower right corner. Its color alternates between copper and green when you tilt the bill — another new security feature.
6. The ghostly watermark of Franklin's face, visible on the right side of the bill when you hold it up to a light, is still there. But the portrait is simplified for the new bill.

Obama and Biden Caught Making Fun of Health Care Law on Hot Mic

WASHINGTON – To the dismay of democrats and republicans alike, a CNN cameraman with a live mic recorded President Obama and Vice President Biden cracking jokes about the new health care law as they sat together outside the White House yesterday. Following is a transcript of their conversation.

BIDEN: (nudges Obama with his elbow) Have you ever read the health care bill?

OBAMA: (cocking his head and looking at Biden) Have you?

BIDEN: (laughing) When would I have the time or the stamina to wade through that monstrosity?

OBAMA: (snickering) It is rather immense, isn't it?

BIDEN: It's f*cking colossal, man. When they stack it up it's something like seven feet high.

OBAMA: Lord have mercy. (laughs) Imagine the poor idiots saddled with trying to interpret that convoluted tripe.

BIDEN: (laughs) There's nobody who can interpret that mess, man. They'll just have to make sh*t up as they go along. The least we could do is give them an exemption!

OBAMA: (laughing) It could be a while before they're put to the test. I've heard only one person's been able to figure out how to even sign up.

BIDEN: How about Sebelius's feeble attempts to look like she knows what she's doing? Her befuddled minions at Health and Human Services are scrambling around like Charlie Sheen on bath salts. It's like the Benny Hill Show over there.

OBAMA: (laughing) I hear they play the Benny Hill theme song over the intercom all day long.

(Joe Biden whistles the Benny Hill song and Obama howls with laughter)

OBAMA: (wipes a tear from his eye) You know, not only did we somehow get congress to pass that behemoth, but then the freakin' Supreme Court jumps in and gives it their stamp of approval?

BIDEN: That's why I said it was such a big f*cking deal, man. Nobody could have imagined we'd be able to push that bloated beast through congress, let alone get a thumbs-up from SCOTUS.

OBAMA: (chuckles) All the signs pointed to failure. What was it Pelosi said? We need to pass the bill to find out what's in it?

BIDEN: Oh, God, that was priceless! The speaker of the f*cking house, for Christ's sake!

OBAMA: (sighs) How that statement did not put an end to her political career, I'll never know.

(Obama and Biden sit smiling for a moment)

BIDEN: How does the Affordable Care Act work?

OBAMA: You're asking me?

BIDEN: Well, you do call it Obama Care!

OBAMA: You think Oprah knows how they put her magazine together? The woman shows up for an hour every month to pose for the Glamour Shots photo they use for her magazine cover, then she scuttles back with Gayle to their hot tub. That's the extent of her involvement.

BIDEN: So Oprah uses her name to sell something she's not involved with?

OBAMA: Sure does. So just because it's called Obama Care, that doesn't mean I have any idea how the damn thing's supposed to work. Ain't no different than what Oprah does.

BIDEN: Well, there is one big difference.

OBAMA: What's that?

BIDEN: People wanna buy Oprah's magazine!

Both men erupt with laughter and then share a high-five.

OBAMA: (wiping tears from his eyes) Oh, man ...that's a good point!

BIDEN: (sighing heavily) You know, it's quickly turning into a circus, Buddy. I mean, things are lookin' kinda bleak. What are we gonna do when it really gets bad?

OBAMA: You mean when the bloated health care beast implodes?

BIDEN: Yeah. What then?

OBAMA: Well, then I'll just put in a call to my good buddy Vladimir Putin ...

OBAMA & BIDEN: (in unison) Cause President Putin can fix anything!

After the two men burst into hysterical laughter, Vice President Biden stood up and began doing a silly twist-like dance as he and President Obama hummed the Benny Hill theme song together.

JT: You elected them, albeit illegally, Americans, so get rid of them, Americans, as fast as you can! This position is not satire
